FARM HAND HELD—Edward Gein, right, 51-year-old farm hand, is escorted by Sheriff Art Schley after he was arrested. Police said he admitted Nov. 18 that he slew and butchered a Plainfield, Wis., businesswoman Nov. 16. But, he told District Attorney Earl Kileen, the other 10 human skulls found in his secluded farm house were "collected" from cemeteries. (AP Wirephoto)

Lie Test to Be Given Human Head Collector

WAUTOMA, Wis. — A difficult, little man who admitted in puzzled tones yesterday that he had opened fresh graves over a period of years to collect human heads and finally butchered a neighbor woman — "while in a daze" faces a polygraph test of his story.

Edward Gein, a 51-year-old Plainfield bachelor handyman, was scheduled to go to Madison today for a lie detector test at the state crime laboratory.

Held for Robbery Now
Gein presently is being held under $10,000 bond for the armed

Alleged Gunman At Laundry Held For Grand Jury

Gerald Charles Schlesinger, 17, of 35 Lorne Street, Dorchester, Mass., alleged gunman in last Thursday's $56 stickup at the Kingston Laundry, waived examination before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and was held to await grand jury action.

Joseph Harris, 16, of 16 Ferry Heights Avenue, Dorchester, one of two companions caught with Schlesinger on Fair Street less than three hours after the robbery, is due to be assigned counsel tomorrow.

Two Lawyers Assigned
Saccam was assigned by the court to represent Sorman, and Francis Martocci, assigned to appear for Schlesinger, represented him today.

Attorney William D. Brinnier represented the district attorney's office.

The trio was picked up near the Fair Street Reformed Church in a car reported stolen from Albany. They were sur-

Four Given Rosendale Okay For Uranium Hunt in Dump

Four young men — three from Catskill and one from High Falls — have been granted permission by the Rosendale village board to dig for uranium in the village dump.

The four, in their late teens and early 20's, reported Sunday that they got a high reading on a geiger counter which they were using in the exploration of caves in the vicinity.

In their petition to the board they asked for mineral rights. Mrs. Catherine O'Leary, village mayor, robbery of Mrs. Bernice Worden last Saturday.

However, Dist. Atty. Kileen said the filing of a murder charge in the death of the 58-year-old widow, whose corpse was found hanging like a deer carcass in Gein's woodshed Saturday night, awaits only a complete sifting of the gruesome remnants found on his secluded farm, about 120 miles northwest of Milwaukee.

Proposed Questions
Here are some of the questions the lie detector test may answer: Did Gein mould hideous death masks from the faces of newly-buried dead?

Did he fabricate upholstery for furniture in his cluttered farm house from human skin?

A "daze," he said, came on him when he did such things as dig up the graves from which he took at least 10 heads.

Daze Leaves Him
Once, he said, the daze left him while he was digging in a burial mound.

"I quit then," he said.

Investigators, who found Mrs. Worden's decapitated corpse, discovered the heads of four other persons in Gein's house Sunday and found six more there yesterday. Some were packaged neatly in plastic bags, others were tossed under furniture.

In a signed statement, Gein said he had not "collected" any for two or three years.

Kileen said Gein took him yesterday to cemeteries he had visited.

To Make Study
At Madison last night, Charles Wilson, state crime laboratory director, said that when all the human segments had been collected from Gein's farm, technicians would study them in an effort to identify the victims of the grave robberies.

Gein said he had followed death notices published in the local newspaper and then opened the graves of women who had just died.

The handyman said he had visited cemeteries about 40 times, robbing at least 10 graves from 1944 to 1952. He indicated that on other occasions he snapped out of his "daze" and went home without violating a grave.

They went to the Knaust mushroom caves near Rosendale. It was reported. Upon emerging into the Rosendale dump the needle suddenly sprang from zero to 20.

They took a sample of rock from the dump area for examination by the state geologist.

Tours Are Taken for Observing Various Needs Seen at Schools

Members of the Kingston Parent-Teachers Association Council and interested residents of the community—some 40 in all—visited the city's eight elementary schools and the Myron J. Michael junior high school Monday night in a tour designed to better acquaint members of the Council with school problems and needs.

The tour split into three groups—each visiting three of the nine schools.

Following the tour, information was exchanged and evaluated at a meeting of the group at Kingston High School.

Meeting Next Monday
Mrs. Raymond Gilkie, president of the Council, said today that the principal and P-TA president of each school was on hand to greet the visiting committees. Each school had prepared answers to a master question list, including such questions as the following: "What is the major problem at your school—and what improvement is most needed?"

Another in a series of Council meetings will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the library of the high school. This meeting will be open to the public.

Mrs. Gilkie summed up the findings of the tour as follows:

Need More Space
It was discovered that almost every school visited, with the exception of the George Washington School, and perhaps the newly renovated No. 8 School, was in varying degrees of need for more space indoors and out.

No. 8's biggest need is more playground space but its light-

Adlai Is Sticking To Party

WASHINGTON — Adlai E. Stevenson apparently is going to keep Democratic congressional leaders fully informed of the progress of his NATO program discussions with Secretary of State Dulles.

Stevenson, the twice-defeated Democratic presidential nominee, was represented as recognizing that his party's members of Congress must assume the major responsibility for underwriting any bipartisan support that may be forthcoming for proposals to be laid before the North Atlantic council next month.

Cites Experience
But Stevenson himself emphasized that "I am here not as a Democrat only, but as one who has had some experience in the foreign policy field."

That was his reply to a reporter who asked whether Stevenson expected congressional Democrats to accept him as their spokesman.

Among other things, Stevenson worked on the founding of the United Nations in 1945, and during the next two years he served with the American delegation to the U. N.

Travels Extensively
In 1953 and again this year, he traveled extensively abroad, talking at length with numerous leaders of foreign governments.

Stevenson conferred yesterday with Dulles and received a number of tentative State Department working papers. After a day of studying them, he commented that they had incorporated some of the suggestions he made to Dulles about a week ago in a written memorandum.

Good Beginning
He called his first day's work a good beginning. Stevenson said he

Bank Trial Continuing Jury Hears Rose Story on Two Women

NEW YORK — Trial continued today for two women operators of a Catskill mountain hotel on charges of aiding and abetting William R. Rose in the misapplication of $102,491 in funds of the Home National Bank in Ellenville.

Rose, who headed the now defunct bank, testified briefly yesterday before a jury of 10 men and 2 women before the trial was adjourned for the day. Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld is presiding.

Rose identified a number of documents as bank records allegedly made in connection with the overdrafts.

The two women are Mrs. Celia Hoffman, 48, and Mrs. Anna Schandler, 50. They operate the Hotel Zeiger in Fallsburgh, N. Y. Last Tuesday Rose pleaded guilty to all 13 counts of the indictment on which the women are being tried. It charges he approved the overdrafts.

On Oct. 7, Rose pleaded guilty to another indictment charging misapplication of the bank's funds involving $940,000 in overdrafts for the Anjopa Paper Mfg. Co.

Rose was the principal witness against the co-defendants in that indictment and they were convicted Oct. 29.

Nov. 25 has been fixed as the day for sentencing Rose and the co-defendants, Joseph Di Candia, president of the mill, who was found guilty of conspiracy and aiding and abetting Rose in the misapplication of funds, and Mrs. Margaret Brush, Anjopa bookkeeper, who was convicted of conspiracy. Three corporations including the mill also were convicted.

S. in June, has been on display in New York for the past four and one-half months. The 92-foot, 190-ton ship is being prepared for voyage to Plymouth, Mass., where it will be turned over to the Plymouth Foundation on Thanksgiving Day as a gift to America from the people of Great Britain. ## Girard Calls Verdict 'Tough'

GI, Jap Bride Likely To Sail for U.S. Soon

MAEBASHI, Japan — GI William S. Girard was convicted today of shooting down a woman scrap collector to satisfy a "momentary caprice." A three-judge Japanese court gave him a three-year suspended prison sentence and put him on probation for a fourth year.

Girard called the verdict after the three-month trial "kind of tough" but said he was glad the court "gave me another chance."

The 22-year-old soldier from Ottawa, Ill., and his Japanese bride are scheduled to leave for the United States quickly if neither prosecution nor defense appeals the verdict during the next 14 days.

Appeal Unlikely
The court said the probationary period would apply only if he remained in Japan. Girard also was ordered to pay the court costs of the Japanese witnesses, about $20.

Chief Defense Attorney Ituro Hayashi said the defense does not intend to appeal unless the prosecution does. A prosecution spokesman indicated his side also would not challenge the court ruling, saying, "We are happy that all our contentions were accepted."

The prosecutors had asked for a five-year sentence, which under Japanese custom would have ruled out a suspension.

Girard, a specialist third class, told a news conference he would like to re-enlist when his term expires Jan. 27. An Army spokesman said any re-enlistment application would be judged on its merits, although conviction for a felony normally rules out an applicant.

U. S. officials said a visa application for Girard's wife, Haru "Candy," is being processed normally, and we see no complications.

Candy Hides Out
Candy meanwhile was hiding from reporters.

Although the case at its outset had created a furor in Japan and America and a crisis in U. S.-Japanese relations, there was little immediate public reaction to its outcome. The newspaper Asahi said the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Naka Sakai, victim of Girard's shot last Jan. 30 on an Army firing range, were "almost heartlessly indifferent and said they could not understand why there was so much fuss about it."

The Girard case attracted worldwide attention when veterans groups and some newspapers and congressmen in the United States protested the Army's turning the soldier over to a Japanese court. The State Department was particularly concerned about congressional attacks on the status-of-force agreements providing for foreign trials of servicemen for offenses committed off duty.

Fuss Subsides
The fuss finally subsided after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled there was no constitutional bar to letting Japan try Girard.

Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi said after the verdict he hoped Girard "will become a better man." He added: "After all, the court's job is to sentence a man to jail; it is to try to keep him out of jail so that he will reflect how to become a better man."

Drivers Dodge Checkup 500,000 Fail to Have Cars Inspected

ALBANY — Up to half a million New York motorists have dodged the state's new safety inspection program without being caught.

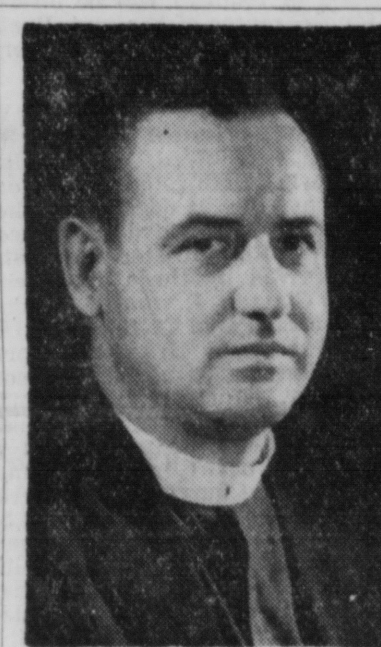

This was revealed today as the state motor vehicle commissioner called for a statewide police crackdown on delinquents.

Commissioner Joseph B. Kelly declared in a statement that "it is now becoming increasingly evident that a large number of vehicle owners have not complied with the inspection schedule."

A spokesman for Kelly said the "large number" was perhaps as many as half a million. All are liable to lose their registration plates if caught by police. They will face additional penalties after Jan. 1.

The spokesman said the bureau estimated roughly that three million vehicles would have to undergo inspection this year. So far about two million have been checked, with about half a million 1952 models scheduled for this month.

Will Be Speaker At Onteora's Panel on Youth

The Rev. C. Kijmer Myers, an Episcopal priest at the Lower East Side Mission, New York City, whose work in the field of juvenile delinquency has received wide recognition in recent months, will be the guest of the Onteora Central School at a panel meeting Wednesday night.

The forum, which will be moderated by James W. Orser of the Onteora faculty, is part of the adult education program of the school.

500 to Attend
William H. Deming, principal of the high school, said today that an audience of several hundred persons—perhaps as many as 500—was expected.

The Rev. Mr. Myers has been "in the news" in recent months—particularly in the nation's top magazines. His picture appeared in a recent issue of Life.

His subject will be "Our Responsibility to Youth." He will describe some of the problems and needs of youth including those who are "delinquent."

Many Groups Invited
Key persons in youth work throughout Ulster County are expected at the meeting. Invitations have been sent to schools, churches, service groups and other organizations with a special interest in youth problems.

Parents and interested persons are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the school at 8 p. m.

Suggest Summer Training For Science, Math Pupils

ALBANY — A group of professional educators recommend that a program of extra summer training of talented students be tested in a few communities of the state.

The training emphasis would be on science and mathematics. The group of 22 educators propose special state aid to support the programs.

They met here yesterday for a conference to explore ways of accelerating science-mathematics education and of making greater use of school personnel and facilities to meet the challenge posed by Soviet Russia's advances in missile development.

The conference was called by Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

Croswell, Agents Go Over Names 58 Flushed Out Of State Conclave

BINGHAMTON — U. S. Treasury agents said today they would take a "long look" at income tax accounts of the 58 men who gathered at a gangland conclave last Thursday at nearby Apalachin.

Special agent E. J. Vitkus, of the Internal Revenue office's intelligence unit here, said he and his agents had talked with state police Sgt. Edgar D. Croswell, who led the roundup of those at the meeting at Joseph Barbara's hilltop home.

Sgt. Croswell, head of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation for Tioga and Broome Counties, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Croswell, of 329 South Wall Street, Kingston.

A native of Woodstock, Croswell formerly was a special officer of the Kingston Police Department and at one time served as a local fireman.

Vitkus would not say whether the investigation had been begun or what direction it would take.

Moonshine Suspected
In another development, the head of the U. S. alcohol tax unit in Buffalo said the police raid was partly the result of his probe into the sugar-buying activities of Barbara, who owns a beverage distributing firm in Endicott.

Oliver J. Gettel said the inquiry was directed at possible moonshine operations.

Some of the guests flushed out in the raid by troopers and Treasury agents were notorious gangsters. All said they had come to pay a sick call to Barbara, 51, who said he had suffered several heart attacks.

Any income tax information unearthed on Barbara's guests, Vitkus said, will be forwarded to Internal Revenue offices in or near their home communities. Vitkus said no "gambling or other illegal activities would be overlooked."

Check Possible Links
Gettel said Barbara started buying 30,000 pounds of sugar a month last January and stopped the purchases abruptly in July.

He said his agents were investigating possible links between the purchases and a large moonshine still they raided in Rochester June 11.

In Endicott, Barbara declined comment.

The guest list also was used by police as a source of witnesses in other investigations.

In Springfield, Ill., Frank Zito, one of the guests, was subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury. The U. S. attorney declined to say what he will be questioned about, but said the subpoena grew out of reports of the Apalachin meeting.

In Newark, N. J., police questioned Anthony P. Rielia, 61, a motel operator, and guest at the Barbara party. They did not say what they learned.

One Linked to Kill
Gettel said here yesterday that state police and his agents worked together on moonshine probes and that when former bootleggers began visiting the Barbara mansion his office was called in.

He said one of the men on the guest list had been linked to the Rochester moonshine still and another was from Havana, Cuba, a major source of sugar.

He said he obtained his information on the amount of sugar Barbara was buying from wholesale dealers, who are required to report on sales when asked.

Barbara has had his scrapes with the law, but has been convicted only on a federal charge of illegal sugar dealings during World War II.

U. S. Plans Earlier Missile Shipment To Europe Allies

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy said after a conference with President Eisenhower today the United States will be able to supply intermediate range missiles to its European allies "earlier than had been expected." McElroy said at a news conference that for security reasons he could not pinpoint just when the Defense Department believes such shipments of 1,500 mile range missiles can start. He indicated, however, that the time is not immediately eminent.

He did so in saying in reply to a question, that such shipments will start "considerably earlier than several years" from now.

After the Eisenhower-McElroy conference at the Augusta National Golf Club, the White House announced that the President will make the third in a series of major addresses on national security in Cleveland the night of Nov. 26.

Tornadoes, Snow, Rain Menace Areas

By The Associated Press

An outbreak of wild November weather dealt destructive blows to broad areas in the south and mid-continent yesterday.

Tornadoes, snow, rain and wind storms pounded many areas. Floods menaced some southern states, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes.

Deaths Total 30

Deaths attributed to the violent weather numbered at least 19 and an over-all total of 30 since the weekend. Several persons were injured. Property damage, mostly from tornadoes and floods, mounted into the millions of dollars.

The season's heaviest snowstorm which hit the Midwest appeared tapering off today but strong northerly winds, with gusts up to 50 m. p. h. caused much drifting. Visibility was sharply reduced and highway travel was considered hazardous in many areas. Snow piles in some places were unable to make much headway because of the steady drifting.

Snow piled up to more than a foot in sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. While the heavy snow diminished in eastern parts of South Dakota and Nebraska, more snow fell from Iowa and southern Minnesota into northwestern Wisconsin and upper Michigan. Depths of 8 to 12 inches were general.

The deaths attributed to the stormy weather since the weekend included Nebraska 6; Alabama 6, with 2 missing and presumed dead; Minnesota 5; Illinois 5; Kentucky 4; Mississippi 2.

Tornadoes ripped across areas in Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi. More than 20 persons were injured in Alabama. The twisters hit the Birmingham area and several small Alabama communities.

Heart Seizure Is Fatal to Hunter In Katsbaan Area

A heart seizure was fatal to a Saugerties area man Monday about 8 a. m. shortly after he and a companion shot a buck on the opening day of the deer season.

The victim was James E. Dederick, 57, who operates a welding and repair service with his son on the road to Woodstock.

Hunting off Route 32 at Katsbaan, with Herbert Hummel of Saugerties, Dederick went for his car to bring the deer out of the woods, but didn't return. Hummel found him lying near the car when he decided to check the delay.

Coroner Michael A. Galletta of Saugerties said Dederick died of a heart attack. A native of the Bronx, Dederick, who was 57 on October 30, moved to the Saugerties area with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dederick, when he was a youngster.

Surviving are his wife, Helen Smith Dederick, a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Lohman of Schenectady; a son, Bernard J. Dederick, with whom he operated their welding business on the Woodstock road, and four grandchildren.

Also surviving are three brothers, Captain Harold Dederick of Ridgefield, N. J., Arthur of Hawaii and Earl of California and four sisters, Mrs. Mae Schonefeld, Mrs. Ruth Craft and Betty and Carolyn Dederick.

He was a member of Ulster Lodge 193, F and AM which will hold services Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Hartley and Lamouree Funeral Home, 8 Second Street, Saugerties. He also was a member of the Centerville Fire Department which will hold services Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

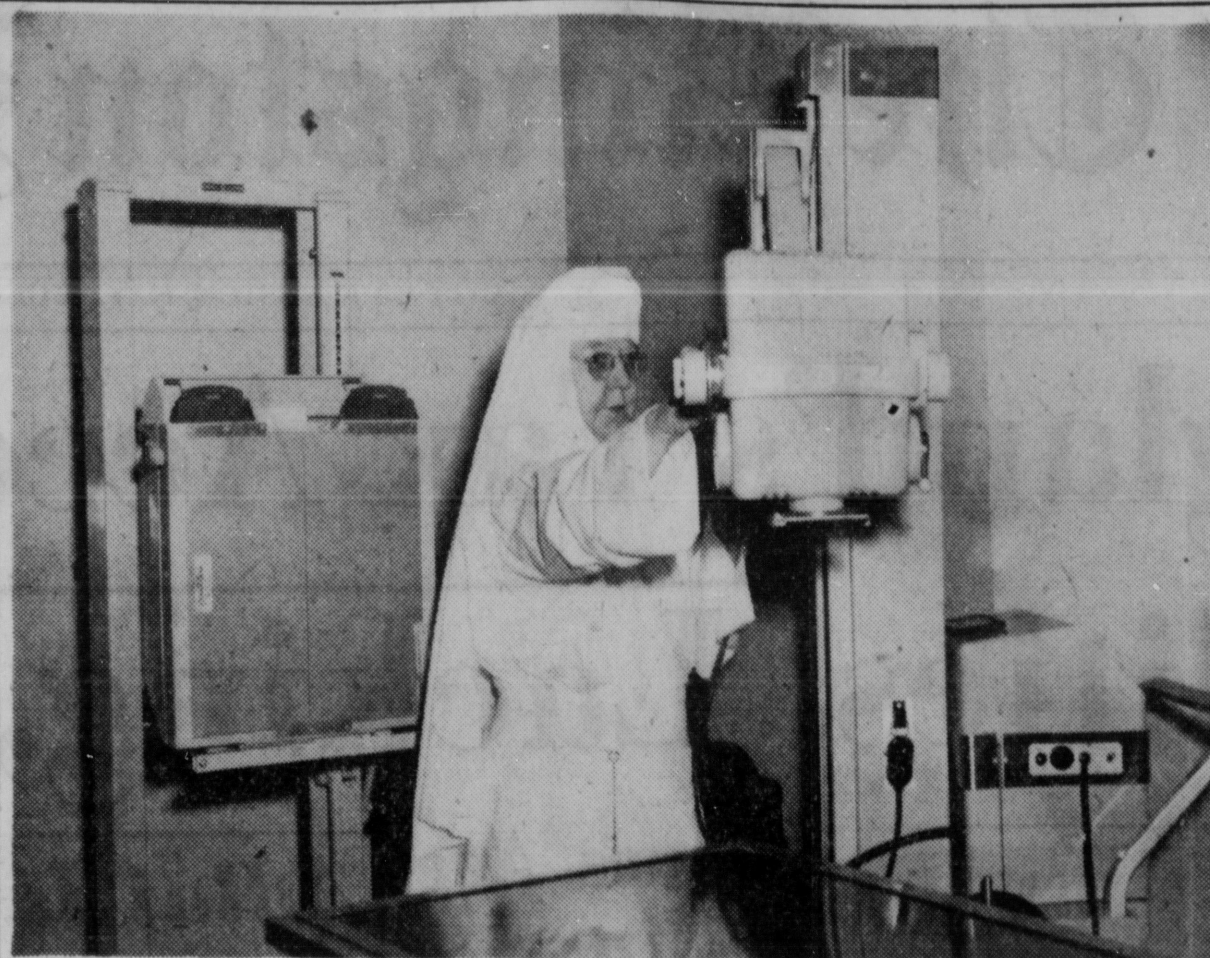

Funeral will be held from the Hartley and Lamouree Funeral Home Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Katsbaan Cemetery.

State Probers Continuing Checks, Reuter Expected

There were no formal hearings conducted yesterday when members of the State Investigations Committee resumed its delving into the local police situation.

A spokesman for the commission said men continued to "make checks on records at the police station and city court." Other members of the commission were collating information gathered.

Commissioner Arthur Reuter is expected to return to Kingston in a day or two to resume his personal supervision of the local situation. Since there are numerous investigations going on in the state under his jurisdiction, Commissioner Reuter is compelled to divide his attention. "Kingston is not the only place under investigation," a member of the local force said.

"He has many investigations underway," it was stated yesterday.

Benjamin F. Nolan, assistant counsel to Commissioner Reuter, said a report had been circulated that the investigation had been "pinpointed" about the activities of the police department of Kingston. That is not so, he stated. "We are making an investigation from all angles. Complaints and information continue to come in from various directions and sources and we are investigating all such complaints," he said.

State Investigations Commissioner Arthur Reuter appeared on a TV program in New York on Sunday at which time he suggested creation of a permanent agency with power to fight organized crime, throughout the state. Such an agency would provide leadership for close cooperation of law enforcement bodies and public prosecutors. Reuter said he had no plans to make any further probes into the New York City "racket-ridden private garbage collection situation" because he feels it is within the province of the state attorney general.

Reuter said new legislation was needed to provide additional powers for his office because, under existing law, he can undertake investigations only at the direction of the governor. It was following the filing of petitions signed by local people that the governor directed Reuter's department to conduct the present investigation into the local alleged police irregularities to determine whether a full scale investigation should be conducted.

A report that the Reuter investigation had reached and encompassed records of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board and certain licensed taverns in Kingston brought forth a "no comment" from counsel to the investigating committee.

It was rumored that the committee had been scrutinizing certain taverns and activities on the premises. In declining to make any comment in regard to these rumors, counsel said, "If we are seen going into certain places it does not mean we are investigating that particular place specifically. It may be only a part of the general investigation." Again it was emphasized that no inference of involvement of any department or individual should be taken where investigators were seen delving into records or questioning individuals. The acts may be routine.

A Pennsylvania law says that "you must have a fishing license to row a boat" for a friend who is a fisherman.

Prospects Uncertain

Prospects were uncertain for the western plan, conceived to keep the Russians from carrying out their threat to boycott the disarmament talks.

The Soviets let it be known they planned to seek a prior vote on their earlier demand to balloon out the arms negotiations to include all 82 U. N. members. The west has regarded this as a Soviet bluff for bargaining purposes. Initial U. S. reaction to Kuznetsov's latest rejection was that it was a similar bluff.

Kuznetsov promised a "very decisive statement" refusing to continue disarmament talks under the new western plan. He said that 16 of the 25 nations nominated are lined up with the west in military blocs.

Would Accept Less

He conceded that Russia would accept less than all 82 nations. But he said either the proposed 25-nation commission must be expanded to provide seven more Communists or neutralists, or some "western bloc" countries must be subtracted to provide a balance.

The west has spent the last few days haggling with the Russians on how many western nations they would allow in the talks in exchange for more Soviet-bloc and neutral nations. The 25-nation plan emerged yesterday in a U. S.-backed resolution.

Pineau Bids U. S. Limit Arms to Gun Per Soldier

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau appealed directly to the U. S. government today to limit Tunisian arms to one gun per soldier lest any surplus be smuggled to Algerian rebels.

Pineau told reporters on arrival in Washington last night that the main purpose of his flight from Paris.

Might Limit Damage
He said such restrictions might "limit the damage" he contends was caused by U. S.-British shipments of weapons to Tunisia last week despite bitter French protests.

Pineau said the arms shipments harmed Atlantic solidarity, at the very moment efforts were being made to reinforce it.

Dulles scheduled a late afternoon appointment with Pineau, taking time out from consideration of plans to revitalize the western alliance in the face of Russia's new scientific advances.

These plans are being developed in an effort to offset the effect of Russia's launching of two satellites and her claims to missile successes. The proposals will be laid before the North Atlantic Treaty heads of government meeting at Paris Dec. 16 by Dulles and President Eisenhower.

Quantity Vital
Pineau said he expected to talk also about them with Dulles while he is here. But it was last week's arms shipments that brought the French official flying here from Paris.

"The problem of the quantity of arms is very important," Pineau said.

He said any stockpiling of surplus guns might let some weapons get across the border to Algeria, where France has been battling Arab rebels for two years. He expressed doubt that Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba could control any surplus. He said the ratio should be 4,000 rifles for the 4,000 Tunisian soldiers—and no stockpile.

Such French demands to limit arming of the former French protectorate lay at the bottom of the current crisis.

The French contend they alone by treaty with Tunisia have the right to arm Bourguiba's infant army. But Bourguiba insists that, as head of a sovereign state, he can buy arms anywhere—including behind the Iron Curtain, though he has disclaimed any desire to do so.

Airman Is Freed

HOULTON, Maine (AP)—A young airman from Binghamton, N. Y., was free today of a charge of manslaughter in the death of a Canadian woman at a lakeshore party.

An Aroostook County grand jury did not return an indictment against William R. Coughlin, 22, in its report to superior court. The report was returned last night.

Coughlin, stationed at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, originally was charged with murdering Mrs. Lillian Pelletier, 59, of Ste. Helene, Que., who died of asphyxiation at Long Lake sometime during the Labor Day weekend. He was bound over from municipal court on the lesser charge of manslaughter.

Two Are Killed, Score Injured As Train Derails

MEDFORD, Mass. (U)—The crack Montreal-Boston express train, "Red Wing," was wrecked today in a derailment at a high-way overpass in this suburb six miles north of Boston.

The engineer and fireman of the Boston & Maine railroad train were killed and about a score of passengers injured.

It was raining at the time. One half of the two-section diesel locomotive plunged over the side of the bridge to the street 15 to 18 feet below.

Tracks, Ties Torn Up

Tracks and ties were torn up for a quarter of a mile from the bridge back to a siding switch. The nine-car train was made up of pullman sleepers, coaches, and milk, mail and baggage cars.

Only two of the cars remained on the roadbed, but they were astride it, their sides smashed together.

The others were scattered along the embankment. Two of the cars punched through the wall of the Converse Rubber Co. warehouse at the side of the tracks, knocking out supports and dropping sections of the floors and roof of the four story building.

Mail was strewn on the ground beside the track. William H. Kirley, director of the railway division of the State Public Utilities Department which investigated the wreck, said construction work was going on at the scene and a detour track was being used.

The engineer was pulled from the wreckage and was pronounced dead at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. He was identified as Harold J. Danforth, 65, of Somerville.

Children Missed Mishap
The dead fireman, identified as George D. Murphy, about 30, of Manchester, N. H., was trapped in the wreckage of the locomotive.

Scarcely five minutes before the derailment hundreds of pupils of St. Clement's elementary and high schools had walked under the railroad bridge on their way to school. The children report by 8:20 a. m. The train was wrecked about 8:25.

Abel to Appeal Spy Conviction

NEW YORK (U)—Russian Col. Rudolf I. Abel, 55, sentenced to 30 years in prison as a spy, has decided to appeal his conviction and sentence.

Abel was convicted in U. S. district court in Brooklyn on Oct. 25 on charges including conspiring to transmit U. S. military information to the Soviet Union. He could have been sentenced to death. Instead, he drew a sentence last Friday that could keep him in prison until he is 85, if he lived to that age.

His attorney said yesterday the appeal may be urged "late in January or early in February."

Santa Fe, Union Pact Heads Off Threatened Tie Up

CHICAGO (U)—The Santa Fe railroad today entered into a union shop agreement with 15 non-operating unions, ending a seven-year dispute and heading off a strike scheduled for Friday morning.

The settlement, affecting some 42,000 Santa Fe employees, was reached about 2 a. m. It climaxed 16 hours of nearly continuous meetings among union representatives, company officials and federal mediators.

Similar to Others

The agreement, announced by Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, was termed "a complete victory" by union spokesmen. O'Neill was assisted in the final negotiations by mediation board member Robert Boyd.

George E. Leighty, president of the railroad telegraphers union and chairman of the 15 unions' joint negotiating committee, said the agreement is similar to pacts signed with the nation's eastern railroads five years ago.

The unions, representing the railroad's off-train employees, announced a Nov. 22 strike date last Friday after meetings in Washington broke up without making any apparent headway.

Union Shop Issue
The only point at issue was the union shop, a point which makes union membership a condition of employment.

The agreement provides that all present non-union and new employees, who otherwise would be required to become full members, but will be required to pay dues, fees and assessments.

Fred G. Gurley, chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Santa Fe, said the agreement is therefore a modified union shop, since under many union shop clauses employees are required to become full members.

Fire Evidence Found In Debris of Plane

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—Investigators say they have found evidence of fire in debris from the Pan American stratoscouter that went down in the Pacific 10 days ago with 44 persons aboard.

But they have not determined so far whether the fire occurred while the plane was still in the air or after it hit the water.

A Civil Aeronautics Board representative announced the discovery yesterday after the aircraft carrier Philippine Sea returned here with the remains of 19 of the victims and 14 cartons of wreckage.

The carefully packaged debris was loaded on trucks for removal to San Francisco, where an official examination will be conducted by the CAB.

The bodies of the victims also will be examined by pathologists, chemists, dentists and others in an effort to uncover anything possible about the nature of the crash. Each body will be X-rayed for the purpose of learning precise effects of the impact. The examiners also hope to get some idea of what angle the plane was traveling at when it hit the sea.

SHOKAN—The "blind turn" at the junction of Ridge Road and Route 28, for decades a major traffic hazard in the village, was eliminated last week by Town Superintendent Howard Trowbridge, local highway employee, trucks and power shovels. The bank at the site of the old DuBois tavern of Civil War days was graded back for a distance of 100 feet along the state road thus affording a clear view of busy 28 to motorists coming down the Ridge Road hill.

No License Seen For Power Project Before Next Year

BUFFALO (U)—Examiner William Costello of the Federal Power Commission says the State Power Authority will not receive a license to build the Niagara power project before next year.

Costello heard eight witnesses at the FPC hearing in Buffalo yesterday and ordered the city of Niagara Falls to present its objections to the state plan for the project. Despite the city council's vote last week to withdraw from the hearings.

Only two of the original four intervenors remain in active opposition to construction details of the 600 million dollar project. They are Niagara County and the Township of Lewiston. Both presented testimony yesterday, the first day of the "community disruption" phase of the hearings, which continued today.

Niagara County asked that the city of Niagara Falls be ordered to present its case against the plan for open canals and covered conduits as a means of carrying water across the county to the power plant.

Costello granted the motion and added that the subpoenas were necessary "not because these wit-

STRAIN ON THE HEART

During the first four days of the deer season in a Midwestern state, nine hunters died—not from gunshot wounds, but as the result of heart attacks. Obviously, such deaths brought on by unaccustomed exertion in the field ought not to be blown up into a general conclusion. Yet these incidents do appear to support the belief that significant numbers of American men are in poor physical condition.

Had those men who died been used to a vigorous outdoor life, to tramping through the woods and packing heavy burdens, most of them might still be alive. But the fact is that few of us live that kind of life. For most of us, exercise is moderate and infrequent. We drive most places instead of walking, and we rarely do anything more arduous than yard work or golf. Then, when hunting season comes, we suddenly place heavy strains on our muscles and, above all, on our hearts.

One way to reduce the hazard would be to exercise vigorously the year 'round so that our bodies would be ready for the annual endurance test. Our society being what it is, that is impracticable. Another, and more sensible, defense against heart attacks in the field is the use of good sense, the avoidance of excessive strain. That may not be the best way to get a deer. But it's a good way for a deer hunter to stay alive.

DON'T EXPECT MIRACLES

Reports of a Chicago woman supposedly enjoying several days of sleep and relaxation under hypnosis have revived interest in this intriguing subject. People all over the United States are doubtless saying to themselves that a shot of hypnotic restoration might be exactly what they need.

The thought is a pleasant one, especially in these harried days of tension and pressure. It would be a mistake to put too many hopeful eggs in this one basket, however. Hypnosis can do remarkable things, under proper supervision, but it cannot work miracles. When a man comes out of hypnosis, the problems are still there to be dealt with.

WHO OWNS SPACE?

How far up do a country's limits extend? Everyone agrees that a nation should control some distance above the earth's surface, so as to regulate air traffic which might prove dangerous, and make it harder for foreign agents to do spying. But how far is up?

One man who has given the subject much thought of late is Prince Wolf Heinrich of Hanover, grandson of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II. He and Andrew G. Haley, a Washington lawyer, are touring 14 states to expound the international law problems presented by space travel.

The limit, say the two, should be the earth's atmosphere, which peters out into nothingness 196 miles above. Beyond that point all is in motion, and no sovereignty can properly be claimed. So they say. But it won't be surprising if the Russians try.

USING EXPERIENCE

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are reported to be planning consultations with leading Democrats, including men who worked in foreign policy during the Truman administration. Vice President Nixon is described as having consulted with men who openly criticized him. New ideas for foreign policy and the coming December NATO meeting are being solicited.

And new ideas are needed. Whenever a corner in history is turned, new ideas are called for. We cannot solve the problems of the present and the future with the solutions which worked in the past.

During the last 17 to 20 years many Americans have gained knowledge, experience, skill in foreign countries, both in and out of the government service. We should make more use of their experience. The

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
DO YOU PREFER TO SWINDLE?

The new income tax ruling on expense accounts is an invitation to waste time, money and ingenuity trying to beat the new line on the income tax form which requires an itemization of expenses beyond human endurance. In fact, the new provision is so expensive that it might pay a small man to make no deductions for expenses and to swindle some other way.

And yet, was it the intention of Congress that the income tax should be used to turn this into a nation of liars, thieves and cheats? Business cannot be done without business expenses. The large corporation can afford to put on another 20 bookkeepers to keep a record of every dollar that goes out; the small businessman and the self-employed citizen have too little margin left to keep records of every cigar each one buys, every martini he buys, every hot pastrami sandwich he buys for a customer, where he bought the aforesaid, the name, address, sex and age of the customer, why on that particular day he gave the customer a cigar instead of a cigarette and whether the customer, if a blonde, only did business during business hours or also during other hours.

When taxes become oppressive, the citizens rise in their anger, and as we are approaching a Congressional election, this might be the straw that breaks the camel's back, to use a proverb. The income tax collection is becoming unreasonably punitive and the citizen is beginning to wonder whether he works to support his family or for income taxes.

It is like a grocer I know. He is situated in a normally wholesome spot but there was a breakage in the water mains and his cellar was flooded and damaged to the tune of about $30,000. The problem was not only to get the water out of the place but he had to pay by the pound to get his damaged goods released. And as some of it was such articles as Kleenex, napkins and other articles made of paper, the water soaked into the articles, made them very heavy, putting on more poundage. Meanwhile, the health authorities insisted that the cellar dry out before new goods could be stored.

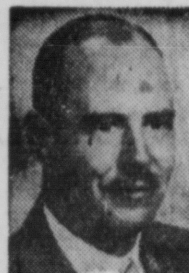

And the city did not come forth with a check to pay for the damages done by its water mains, but was waiting for an adjustment or to be sued, whichever takes more time. Also, unless he can establish to the mistiest detail that he really lost his stock, an obvious fact, he will have trouble deducting his losses in his current income tax report.

So what does a small merchant do? He can drop dead so far as the tax collector is concerned and even if he appears to his Representative for assistance, that fellow thinks it over carefully because members of Congress have been accused of assisting constituents for a legal fee paid to a partner or a brother. All-in-all, the small men in real trouble about this income tax business and the gimmicks for self-protection are becoming too expensive and only the very rich can take advantage of tax havens and profit heavens.

It is not smart that it should be so because the small people are more numerous than the very rich and the small people of this country are getting very tired of the oppressive methods for collecting the income tax, which have come into vogue in recent years—methods which are rigid and uncompromising for the small citizen and the little businessman and the self-employed but which become flexible and easy-going for those who have discovered tax havens or profit heavens. It will not be long before Governor J. Bracken Lee's tax revolt will make a deeper impression upon the people than it has up to now because it is becoming increasingly tiresome for more and more citizens to squirm through the year because of high taxes punitively collected while certain kinds of business and certain individuals avoid and evade all taxes by fake and even fraudulent set-ups in Switzerland, Nassau and other places.

Americans have in the past resorted to violent methods when the going got tough and there is no telling what might happen if unemployment increases and the taxes are still collected with a heavy hand. It might not be so nice.

Bed Rest Is Still Best

Thing for Victim of Cold

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

The season of sniffles is here again. Sad to relate, in spite of all the study of the common cold, on the average we shall probably have as many colds this year as last. Treatment of them has not undergone any remarkable improvement either.

An interesting discussion of the common cold and its complications pointed out that the usual average is three to four colds per person annually. If it is assumed that one is at least partially incapacitated with a cold for three days, that would mean about 1½ billion days are partially lost during the year. Thus, besides the personal misery, there is a big economic loss.

A number of facts are known about the common cold. It is probably caused by several viruses, of which there are believed to be several varieties. So far they have been shown to attack only human beings and the chimpanzee.

Infection stimulates the body to resist further infection only a little. Volunteers who had one cold and were given the same virus preparation a second time showed evidence of resistance for two weeks but not for three.

WHEN VOLUNTEERS were inoculated with material containing the virus, only about half developed colds. The incubation period—that is the time between placing the material in the nose and the development of symptoms—varied between one and six days. It averaged two to three days.

Another curious result of a study of colds with volunteers has been that transmission of the colds from the volunteers to normal persons living in close contact did not take place.

Furthermore, attempts to determine whether chilling and drafts have any effect on susceptibility to acquiring colds have not yielded clear-cut results.

ON DRUGS, one physician said, "All of us see the occasional patient who is a little overzealous in the use of self-medication with these drugs (antihistamine) with the result that low-grade school, unfortunate traffic accidents, losses at poker games, bad bargaining and other mishaps can occur from the sluggishness and mental apathy produced by such self-medication."

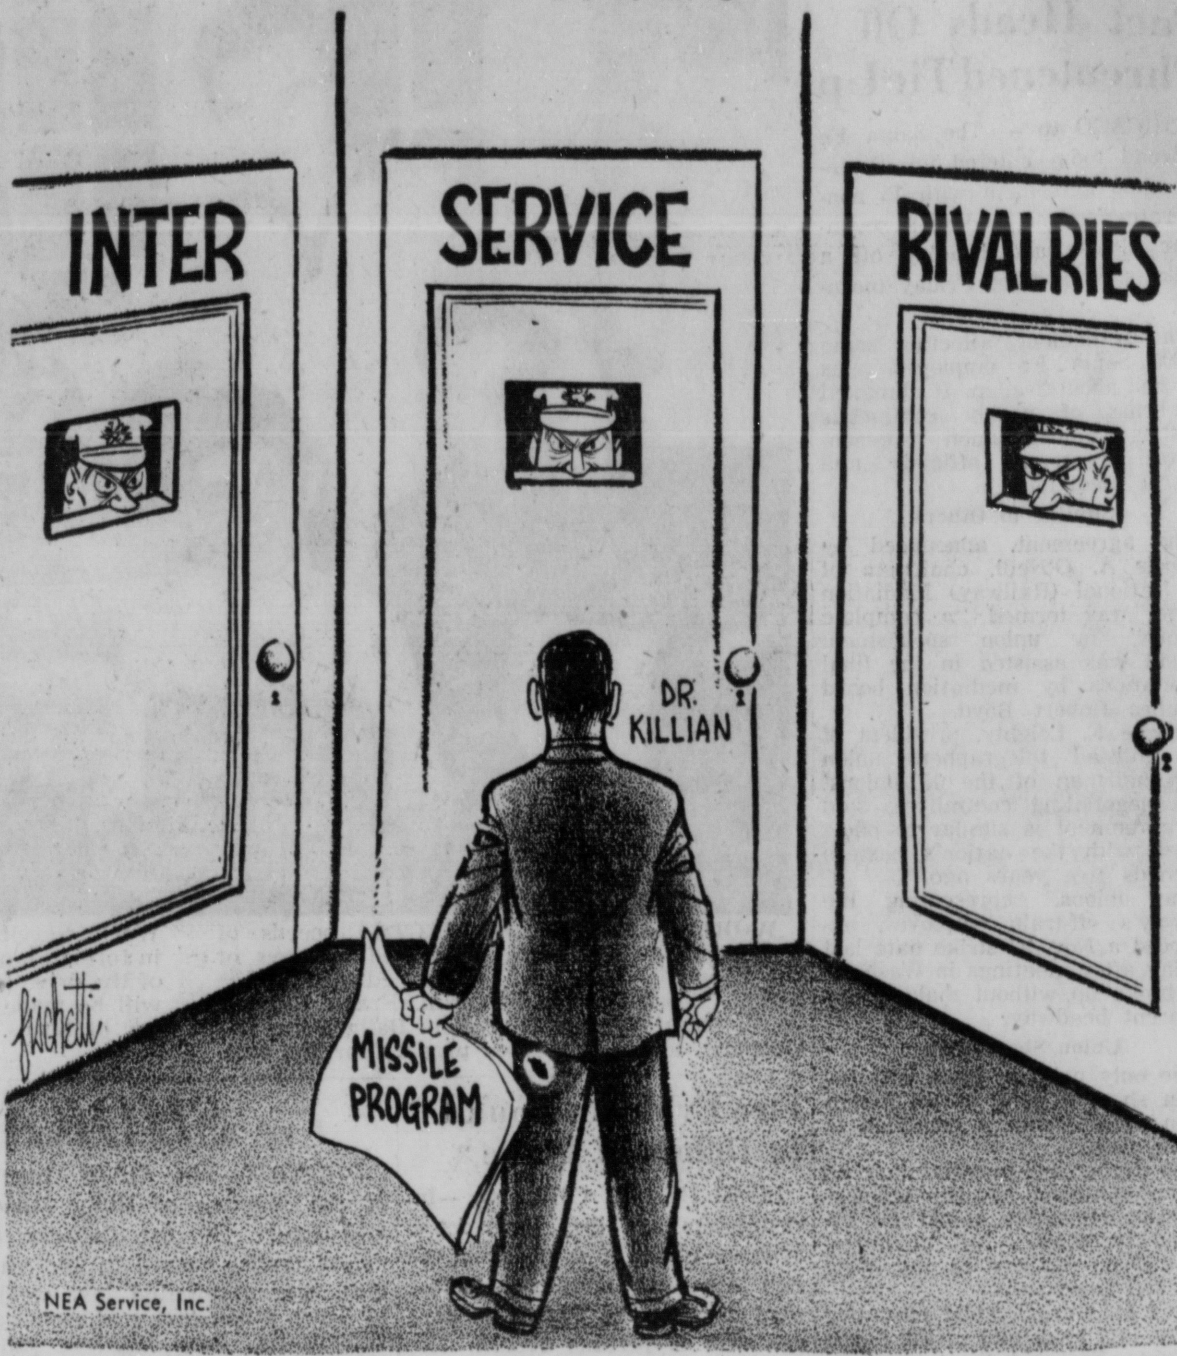

Although millions of dollars are spent each year on cold remedies which are self-administered, this is not wholly without risk.

From a practical standpoint, the best thing to do for a person who feels a cold coming on is to get promptly to bed. There is considerable evidence that rest may shorten the course of a cold and cause the symptoms to be less unpleasant.

passions of yesterday's politics should have died down. What is at stake is more important than partisan politics.

There are many areas of action, and there are many Americans who can think, propose, analyze, suggest, advise, contribute to the creation of a new spirit in our life and policy which will carry us forward with some chances of yet making peace and freedom more secure in this world.

"Ike Sent Me"

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Small benefits keep cropping up from Sputnik.

Each year Ike and Mamie have had some excuse to postpone or call off the round of parties and receptions that make up the White House social season.

Now this year it's the Russian satellites.

Ike is said to be so busy preparing for his missile speeches and the upcoming NATO conference that he won't have time to go to parties, much less throw them.

Inside White House sources report the President and his wife are privately happy about calling off the windings since they dislike large parties in the first place.

NEW U. S. Ambassador to New Zealand Francis Russell recently extended his diplomatic coverage considerably with a flight to Little America, Antarctica. He sent back postcards showing a picture of a few of the tuxedoed aborigines with the message:

"It's springtime here at the South Pole and the temperature today is up around 80 degrees below zero. It's a scene of grim, icy beauty. Practically nobody here but us penguins."

OTHER NIGHT at the big Russian October Revolution party, Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zaroubin told friends confidentially that he plans to take a vacation.

He confessed that he has been so busy lately that he hasn't had a chance to see either Sputnik or Muttink.

"I know that they're still going around," he said. "But so far I haven't been able to look for them. When I take my vacation that's the first thing I'm going to do."

OTHER NIGHT at a Russian embassy party, a guest cracked: "Science is making all kinds of changes in Russia. Now, their cowboys are starting to work at night. They've got saddle-lights."

BRITISH Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that he was all ready to take out first citizenship papers after spending 11 days in this country. He came over with Queen Elizabeth and stayed on for the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks.

That's the longest stop the globe circling British official has made in some time.

In fact, he admitted to friends that he was starting to feel like a satellite. "I can almost hear some of my colleagues talking about signals emitted, and so on. But the one thing I am quite certain of is that probably the physical end is exactly the same—burning out."

FBI DIRECTOR J. Edgar Hoover presented Lawrence Welk with a special plaque for entertaining 1,200 police chiefs and guests at the FBI National Academy dinner in Washington.

And in return, Welk presented the head G-man with a band leader's baton for "directing" the FBI.

"I can't use the baton," said Director Hoover in accepting it, "nor can I do the polka."

Private Concern

The federal government makes no effort to determine whether a patent has been infringed or not. That is a matter for private attorneys.

Recovery May Be Slow

But the facts belie such a

Federal Reserve Rate Cut Viewed as Business Saver

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What really caused the Federal Reserve Board to turn around a few days ago and reduce its interest rates on loans to member banks?

The story is significant because the action may historically emerge as a step that possibly avoided a "depression" and, in actual fact, curbed a "recession."

For two and a half years the Federal Reserve System has been steadily increasing rediscount rates and making it harder and more costly to borrow money. The purpose was to fight "inflation" and to arrest the "boom" which showed signs of a runaway character.

Business Men Protest

But the process was painful. Many business men complained that needed expansion was being prevented and that natural growth was being blocked. To this, the Federal Reserve spokesman replied that postponement of expansion plans was unavoidable and that the country must be given time to "adjust."

Assurances came from the Federal Reserve Board early in the two-and-a-half-year period of rate-boosting that, if the readjustment went too far or seemed to be getting out of hand, it would be reversed.

Last week the decision was reached that the "deflation" had gone far enough. Business men had been complaining not only that current 1957 figures were off considerably in many industries, compared to 1956, but that they couldn't see recovery ahead even in the latter part of 1958, and some have gone so far as to say it would be 1959. The indexes from reliable statistical sources lately have disclosed a decided change downward. The Federal Reserve Board's own figures on the course of industrial production showed an unfavorable downward swing for October.

The Board Relents

It was at this juncture that the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, who had all along been making statements indicating firm continuance of a policy of high money rates—saw the need for a psychological shift. Things began to look too gloomy, for in America it is possible, even without the factual basis, to create a recession based largely on fears and reiterated misgivings.

So the Federal Reserve Board here decided to call a halt. It is true the change was a minor one—only a half-point reduction in the borrowing rate, and this brought it back to the figure set last August. The Federal Reserve Board can, if it chooses, revert to the higher rate two or three months from now if its action of last week is misinterpreted and another boom seems to be emerging that could be dangerously inflationary.

Recovery May Be Slow

But the facts belie such a

prediction. Business has taken a severe whipping, and it is doubtful whether, even with the stimulus of the Federal Reserve Board's slight reduction in interest rates, a substantial recovery can be achieved in less than six or eight months. Still, with many business men, it is important to be able at least to plan on somewhat lower interest rates, even though decisions to take advantage of such rates may not be made for several months hence.

One important fact to be borne in mind is that the decision of the Federal Reserve Board last week brought out some marked differences of opinion within the institution itself. Some felt that the time had not yet come to reverse the policy. Others believed it was better to take a moderate step downward in rediscount rates now than to be compelled to make a drastic reduction later which might lose its whole effect because it might then appear as a measure of sheer desperation.

It is known that in the Federal Reserve Bank in New York the latest change upward in August was approved somewhat reluctantly. It is known also that business men have been pleading with persons versed in central banking procedures and philosophy to urge the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board to reverse his policy. It is reported that some of the arguments became persuasive with Mr. Martin only when the statistics of the business indexes generally revealed a trend downward.

"Psychology" is a much-used term in discussing recessions and depressions, but the Federal Reserve Board must have been impressed with the fact that the recession of 1954 was based on inventory accumulations, whereas the readjustment of 1957 has come from difficulties in capital formation. This has been attributed to lack of sufficient savings as a time of unquestioned demand for money for long-term investment.

High money rates have discouraged borrowing, but this has also brought unemployment and a drop in profits. It has shown signs of doing serious damage to the economy, such as happens when business men begin to consult their fears and start to curtail their operations drastically. Incidentally, by misinterpreting the Federal Reserve Board move of last week as a signal to set in motion again the spiral of wage-price increases, labor-union leaders can undo all the good that has been done. This would be calamitous, and perhaps the time has come for the President to make another appeal for restraint.

The Federal Reserve Board has acted wisely and opportunely. It has not given the green light to inflation, but it has said that deflation has gone far enough for the time being.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — How much and how soon will the cut in the Federal Reserve discount rate help business in general?

Some see the board's action as merely confirming a business downturn already well under way. They doubt if slightly easier credit will have much effect on industrial production for some time to come.

Less costly money in itself needn't spur a businessman to step up output of goods unless they're selling now or build new plants if he already has more capacity than orders now to build up inventories when most materials are in abundant supply.

The stock and bond markets took a different tack. Traders seemed to feel that the cut in the rate from 3½ per cent to 3 per cent is but the first of several steps that Washington will take to halt the incipient recession.

The stock market's reaction was psychological, built on the belief that pump priming is just around the corner for many industries as well as those making missiles. Traders held that happy days will soon be here again.

Bond buyers, foreseeing a further drop in interest rates, a rise in bond prices and a consequent lowering of yields, jumped in quickly to grab up bargains while they lasted.

Whether the commercial banks will follow the Federal Reserve's lead and lower their charge for loans to business is the subject of much dispute.

Some eastern bankers say that demand for loans, although slipping, is still high enough to sustain present high interest charges and they plan no action so far. Others say that the money market has already been easing and if the trend continues interest rates must come down in time.

Bankers point out that the drop in the discount rate is less effective in easing the money supply than other steps the federal reserve could have taken: Such as giving the banks more money to lend by entering the government securities market or by lowering the reserve requirements of member banks.

All agree that the evident reason for the Federal Reserve action was the indicated downturn in the economy which soothed the board's fear of further inflation.

Some of the more optimistic businessmen, particularly those selling consumer goods, look for a pickup eventually as a result of the board's action. They argue that all interest rates will soon fall and that it will be easier for the public to buy on time so sales of slow moving appliances and the like will start up again.

Drivers Urged to Get Inspection of Older Cars

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today called on all police enforcement agencies in the state to help spur delinquent motorists in getting motor vehicle inspections for all 1952 and older models.

In a bulletin to police agencies, the motor vehicle chief reminded police that his Bureau suspends the registration plates of uninspected vehicles on the basis of police reports.

'52 Models This Month
All 1952 model vehicles are scheduled for inspection this month. Older vehicles were scheduled to be inspected earlier during the year. Owners of 1952 and older vehicles will not be able to obtain 1958 plates unless the vehicles have valid inspection stickers.

"It is now becoming increasingly evident that a large number of vehicle owners have not complied with the inspection schedule," Commissioner Kelly said.

"Postponed inspections will overburden the inspection stations, as well as our issuing of offices, during December and January unless we can spur delinquent vehicle-owners in getting their stickers as soon as possible," Commissioner Kelly said in his bulletin to police.

As we advised you early this year, we immediately suspend the registration upon notice from police that a vehicle has not been inspected on schedule.

Measure Effective
"Some police agencies have recently resorted to enforcement campaigns or road blocks for this purpose, and this enforcement measure has been quite effective, particularly when the results have been published in the local newspapers. Therefore it is suggested that if you set up any routine road blocks, special attention be paid to lack of inspection stickers, and that you report any delinquencies to me."

"I shall suspend the registration of vehicle owners whom you so report, until the proper inspections have been made."

Several hundred suggestions for getting a raise

Whenever you think about money—and we hope you do think of it from time to time—here's a useful idea to keep in mind:

There are more ways of trying to increase your income than by asking for a raise. You can own common stock in any of hundreds of prosperous companies with the idea of getting extra income from dividends.

Today eight and a half million Americans own stock. And the wonder is that there are not many more. Because when you own stock you are a part-owner of a corporation. As an owner you can share in profits the company pays in dividends and share in its growth through increase in the value of your stock. In this way you can get income from other sources than your job...an income that may keep coming in whether you're working or not.

How to go about it

Start with money left over after emergencies are provided for. And before you invest a penny, get the facts about the company. Don't depend on tips or rumors. Remember that a company may not pay dividends, may not grow, may even go backwards in our competitive business world. And get good advice from a nearby broker—making sure he's with a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

But remember, too, that there are hundreds of prospering companies. There are over 300 companies on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid dividends every three months from 20 to 93 years. You'll find their records and additional valuable information in our wonderful booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can buy stock in some of America's most famous companies for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month.

Drop in to see a friendly broker in a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Ask him for a free copy. He'll be glad to help you work out a sensible investment program, perhaps recommending bonds instead of stocks. He'll help you buy or sell, and from time to time you can ask him to review your securities with you—an important thing to do.

But first of all, send the coupon now for your free copy of "INVESTMENT FACTS." It may prove one of the wisest moves you've ever made.

Investor Forum

GOOD OLD PROFESSOR

One of the most successful investors in the world is a retired professor of English Literature at a top-ranking university. For four decades he was one of the ablest and most popular lecturers on the campus. In his heyday, his annual appearances before clubs and societies were the highlights of the programs.

He is worth half a million dollars. And not a penny has been left him by admirers, relatives and friends. How could a teacher accumulate such a fortune? His salary was never large.

In his middle 30's he started getting small lecturing fees for his off-campus work. These he could have spent. Instead, he saved them and put them into a savings bank account. Then for around 25 years he received occasional checks for manuscripts and editorial work. These moneys he banked too.

Always Buy the Best

One night at the Faculty Club he asked me: "What might I buy with some savings?" It was reported to be at the very time I was teaching undergraduates something about investment finance. So I answered: "If you will always buy the best and spread your savings around, you will be doing all anyone can do with money."

So, starting about 1922, he invested from around $1,000 to $2,000 a year in the best common stocks. Yes, some of them became worthless. Others, like General Motors, General Electric, International Business Machines, Singer Sewing Machine and Standard Oil of New Jersey, went to town.

It is doubtful if his dollar savings—money set aside from his writing and his lecturing—total more than $50,000. But, by sticking to sound principles and by systematic savings during his best productive years, his capital has grown by more than 1,000 per cent in 35 years. Since his retirement 15 years ago, the growth of his estate has been due entirely to the enhancement of his well-diversified portfolio.

This distinguished professor has seen everything happen in America: (1) a 16,000,000-share day on the New York Stock Exchange in October, 1929; (2) a long and painful economic depression beginning in 1930; (3) the most costly war the world has ever seen; (4) the partial socialization of America's economy; (5) political efforts to arrest deflation; (6) a gigantic growth of the Federal debt with its concomitant increase in money supplies; (7) incentive-killing taxation that helps to consume the forces which keep our country strong.

Was Not Deterred

Now any or all of these are enough to frighten the average investor. But this great Shakespearean scholar has taken everything in stride and year after year, whether stock prices were high or low, whether the economic forces in the country were bullish or bearish, whether the public was fearful or courageous, he has bought the best common stocks available.

I would commend to every reader of these lines whose attitude about the values of common stocks is as changeable as the economic weather, the investment philosophy of this professor of English literature. Talk about "professional" money managers! Here is an authority on Shakespeare, Milton, Francis Bacon and a score of other great poets and essayists who stands at the head of the list of the well-informed and successful investment counselors of the world.

Why is he? Because he knew how and when to save money and, having saved it, employed sound principles in investing it. Don't let anyone say the investment of money involves mystery. It doesn't. Sound judgment is all-important.

Facilities Lacking

ing, floors, paint and general appearance are good. It was reported that students have given it extra good care since it was refurbished.

No. 7's problems are not only need for more classrooms and sound-proofing to give better protection to students while the music program is being conducted, but need for library, auditorium, cafeteria, teachers room and indoor recreational facilities.

Other Drawbacks

No. 5 School is reported to need somewhat the same kind of rooms, as gym work, library and music work is being conducted in the halls—which is confusing and disrupting to classes in session. It also needs inside painting.

The major problems at No. 6 School seem to be inadequate cafeteria, no assembly space, no indoor gym, no medical room, no teachers room and poor lighting.

Problems at Schools 2, 3 and 4 seem to come under the heading of old buildings with their maze of wooden stairs leading to small classrooms, with rilly wooden floors, general appearance inside and out, lighting and controls for heating.

Playground areas are on an incline at Nos. 2 and 3, therefore unusable. At No. 4 there is a condition of traffic through some of the classes, inadequate library, lunch and recreation for indoors. The exterior at No. 4 is reported to be in bad shape.

The No. 2 School has the problem of stairs, light, heat, inadequate cafeteria, but School 2 also reported two new bright and cheerful rooms—kindergarten and first grade, with excellent lighting, fixtures, sound-proofing, tile floors, built-in cabinets and toilets.

No Bus Service

Long walking distances in some cases with no buses is reported at No. 4.

The MJM School's big problem is small classrooms, lack of space for special subjects, such as art, music, gym, shop, home economics, library and assembly.

It is reported that a lot of books have not yet been unpacked because there is no place to put them.

Boys and girls are in continual flow all day to and from the high school buildings for these special subjects, which creates a problem of racks and books for the students—and for teachers and principals the problem is trying to keep track of these students all day.

It was indicated that a new gym and auditorium were badly needed, as the MJM students have gym only twice a week and three times every other week—girls taking their gym work on the stage while the boys are on the gym floor, and alternating this pattern. Gym has to be canceled when there is an assembly meeting.

Cafeteria is running fairly smoothly at MJM. There is a teachers room and plenty of lockers. Floors are wooden in classrooms but good condition with tile in the halls and downstairs. The building is sound and good looking, both inside and out.

The play area is too far away to be at all times usable. The general overcrowdedness has been alleviated somewhat by forcing six seventh grade classes into the George Washington School and by refusing seventh graders from the Chambers School. Eighth graders from Chambers will be refused next year.

All schools meet the requirements for fire, safety and health and the general protection of the children.

Worker Injured On Ski Project

WILMINGTON (AP)—A workman on the new state-owned Whiteface Mountain ski project was injured critically yesterday when he was struck by a boulder sent flying by a dynamite blast.

State police said the man, Alfred Sweeney, 41, of Morrisville, was working at the 1,900-foot level when he was hit by a rock broken loose by the explosion higher up the mountain.

One of Sweeney's leg was amputated at the scene. He was taken to Lake Placid Memorial Hospital where his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Troopers said a warning to clear the area had been given before the explosion, which was set off to clear ground for a tower.

3 Inmates Captured

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP)—Police have captured three of seven prisoners who escaped from the Lake County jail early yesterday, including two of three accused slayers, but an admitted sex killer, possibly the most dangerous, was still at large today.

The latter is George R. Brown, 25, East Gary, object of one of the most extensive manhunts since days of Indiana's desperado John Dillinger. Lake County Sheriff Jack West gave "shoot-to-kill" orders in the hunt for the four fugitives.

Brown was to have gone on trial yesterday for one of two sex murders police say he has admitted. His attorney said he was to have pleaded insanity. He is a former mental patient.

Also at large were Houston E. Smith, 18, Chicago; Wallace Mohammed, 18, Chicago; and Mack Dow Kith, 28, Gary, all accused of theft.

The seven men escaped from a 75-year-old section of the jail by using a metal table leg to break through a cell wall into a corridor and pry window bars apart.

Jury Completed For Metals Case

A jury was completed Monday afternoon for trial of a grand larceny, first degree, charge, against John Williams and William Harris who it is alleged took from the Newgold property on Overlook Mountain a quantity of metals and materials. The specific charge is that in June 1956 they removed by truck a load of material from the site of the old Overlook Mountain House.

Wilbert Newgold testified he had been informed three men have been removing property with a truck and that he talked with the two men now charged with the act. Last February an indictment against Robert Howell, owner of the truck allegedly used, was dismissed on the grounds his truck had been engaged for the job and he was not involved in the larceny other than his truck had been hired and used to transport the property.

Hubert Richter and Seymour Werbalowsky appear for defendants, Williams and Harris, and District Attorney Howard C. St. John and Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torrance appear for the prosecution.

In court today observing how the courts of a democracy operate, were students from the Immaculate Conception Parochial School, County Judge Louis G. Bruhn prior to a morning recess acknowledged their presence and extended a welcome, saying that he hoped more school children would attend the sessions of the courts to observe how justice is dealt out in the democratic processes of law.

will leave tonight for New York and Chicago, but will return next Monday to "work right through" to a Dec. 3 White House meeting of Republican and Democratic congressional leaders.

Stevenson is serving, a department spokesman said yesterday, as "a private citizen who is making his views available."

As if to emphasize that role, he will hold no title and will receive no salary or expenses as an adviser, though he has been assigned an office across the hall from Dulles.

Started Military Bands

The modern military band may be traced to Frederick the Great, of Prussia. In 1763, he ordered a military band to be organized and named the instruments to be used.

Alleged Gunman

prised by detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons, who were operating as part of a police dragnet.

Awaiting Reports

Local police today were still awaiting results of a full check-up on the records of the three, and on that of John Diego, 19, of Albany, who, they said, had been with them, but escaped before the Dorchester trio was caught on Fair Street.

Authorities claim that Schlesinger has admitted breaking and entering a place in Dorchester, and Harris admits a burglary and car theft.

A message on young Harris indicated that he was treated as a juvenile delinquent at Milton, Mass., after a larceny arrest, and the case was dismissed. Again in March of this year he was held as a delinquent for using an automobile without permission. The case was reported "continued for a year without disposition."

No Boston Complaints

Messages from Boston police indicate that none of them is wanted there.

The trio told local police that they went from Massachusetts to Albany by plane last Wednesday. After staying over night there they came to Kingston, arriving here at about 1 p. m., on the day of the laundry pick-up. They said they met Diego in an Albany bar.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails headed lower as the stock market declined in moderate trading early this afternoon.

A brief flurry in aircrafts put some of these issues to the upside but they backed away slightly from their best gains.

Steels, nonferrous metals and oils were mostly lower. Motors were mixed and utilities fairly steady.

Both gains and losses were held to around a point.

The market was lower from the start and most price movements were quite narrow.

Baltimore & Ohio's action yesterday in halving quarterly dividends for 1958 still exerted a depressing effect on the rail section. B&O continued actively traded today.

The effect of the lowering of the Federal Reserve's discount rate was apparent in lower rates for U. S. Treasury bills and a cut in commercial paper but the initial "shot-in-the-arm" effect of the reserve board's action on Friday appeared to have worn off.

Bristow Adams Dies

ITHACA (AP)—Bristow Adams, professor emeritus of journalism at Cornell University, died today in an Ithaca nursing home. He had been ill for several months.

He was 82.

Adams, as an alderman on the city council, was acting mayor from 1948 to 1955.

He taught journalism at Cornell from 1914 until his retirement in 1945.

Schultz, chief probation officer of Ulster County; Assistant District Attorney John Larkin; Thomas McLernon, associate of the bureau of adult education State Department of Education; James Hood, manager of personnel administration, IBM; Henry Lampl, Kingston psychologist, employed by the Board of Cooperative Services as school psychologist; Johann Aalto, senior resident engineer of the City of New York Water Department, chief executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, and chairman of the adult education advisory committee of the Ontario Central School; Mrs. Samuel Porter of New York City, executive secretary of the Lower East Side Neighborhood Association, and Otto Krein, 20-year-old senior at Ontario Central who is president of the student council.

Writes on Subject

The Rev. Mr. Myers is the author of "Light the Dark Streets." The following excerpt is taken from that book:

"We had just finished dinner in the vicarage one Sunday afternoon. The clergy had gone and only a few parishioners remained to talk a while. Suddenly we heard shouting in the streets; the voices were angry. Rushing to the window we looked out upon a large group of the Knights standing in front of the Settlement. When they saw us, they pointed down the street.

"Up the middle of Henry Street, up the bloody block, as some have named it, came the two Johnson brothers. They walked slowly, their hands in their pockets. They looked grim. "I gestured inquiringly with my hands and shoulders at the Knights. One of them shouted, 'Razors!'

"I tore down into the street and walked toward the approaching brothers feeling half foolish, as though I were part of a Western drama played in the main street of a cattle town. But it was serious and I was not sure how to cope with it. I knew only that I must somehow obtain the razors."

Frank, still inside the building after William had been put out, was hit in the right thigh by a buckshot when William fired through a hotel door, troopers said.

Two in Hospital Yet

Frank has been discharged from the Delaware Valley Hospital, Walton, but two others, hit in the chest with the shot, are still under treatment there. They are Virgil Dockerty, 23, of Shinnepole, and Harold Tompkins, 31, of Hamden.

William Hatch, in critical condition at the Albany Veterans' Hospital, is breathing through a tube, Sgt. Dunn said.

Phone Pulled Out

The brothers, troopers said, had been causing a disturbance at the hotel bar. They refused to stop when told to do so by Theodore Mills, 47, the bartender, and when Del Aqua threatened to call the police, William Hatch pulled the telephone from the wall.

Authorities are waiting out results of continued investigation and determination of other factors before placing charges.

State Non-White Population Up 44 PC in 7 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The non-white population of New York State increased 44 per cent in the past seven years, according to a survey by the State Commission Against Discrimination.

At the same time, the survey released yesterday showed, the white population in the state jumped 5 per cent.

Numerically, non-whites, 97 per cent of whom are Negroes, are estimated at 1,377,000 and whites at 14,569,000.

Higher Birth Rate

Charles Abrams, commission chairman, said many of the Negroes coming into the state are young men and women from the south seeking better job opportunities and freedom from race bias. He added that a higher birth rate among non-white families also is a factor.

A movement of non-whites to New York City's suburban counties was noted in these percentage increases since 1950: Suffolk County, 107.8, Nassau 68.3, Westchester 32.7 and Rockland 30.8. The white group also recorded a sharp rise in the suburbs.

In New York City, the non-white population rose 320,221 to 1,095,737 while the white total dropped by 416,707 to 6,699,734.

In Manhattan, the focus of Negro migration in past years, the non-white total went up only 3.7 per cent. This contrasted with increases of 128.9 per cent in Queens, and 121.1 per cent in The Bronx.

Gotham Home to Most

The New York City area remains the home of most of the state's Negroes. The survey showed 1,211,272 non-whites in the metropolitan district. This is 88 per cent of the statewide total of 1,377,000.

Fewer than 10 per cent of Puerto Ricans are classified by the U. S. Census Bureau as non-whites. On this basis, 50,000 of the 600,000 Puerto Ricans in New York City were tabulated as non-whites. The number of Puerto Ricans in the city doubled in the last seven years.

Samples of the growth of non-white population in upstate cities: Albany-Schenectady-Troy, up 55 per cent from 9,081 to 14,000; Binghamton-Endicott-Johnson City up 10 per cent from 899 to 1,000; Buffalo-Niagara Falls, up 60 per cent from 47,786 to 76,000; Rochester, up 95 per cent from 8,247 to 16,000; Syracuse, up 75 per cent from 6,275 to 10,975; Utica-Rome, up 50 per cent from 2,595 to 4,000.

There was almost no growth of a Negro population in upstate suburban areas.

Syria, Egypt Are Closer to Union

DAMASCUS (AP)—Syria and Egypt moved closer to a federal union today. Joint committees are expected to begin drafting a constitution soon.

Forty visiting members of Egypt's national assembly joined Syrian deputies yesterday in voting unanimously for speedy completion of the union, agreed on in principle 16 months ago.

2,000 Hail Pact

About 2,000 persons crowded into the circular hall of the Syrian parliament building. There was applause when the joint session approved a resolution calling on both governments "to go into immediate joint negotiations for the complete realization of this federal union."

The federation looks toward joint foreign, defense, economic, financial and cultural policies. The two countries would maintain independence in internal affairs.

Syrian premier Sabri Assali told the parliamentary session that the merging of the armed forces of the two Arab countries was practically realized when Egyptian troops recently landed in Syria.

Raps U. S.

Syrian parliament speaker Akram Hourani asserted that the United States has launched "a slanderous campaign aimed at picturing Syria as a tool of international communism and a base for the Soviet Union."

Syria, he declared, never will be "a base for anything other than Arab nationalism."

The head of the Egyptian delegation, Anwar Sadat, said the federal union is planned not for aggression but for the welfare of the Arabs and "as a means of serving the cause of world peace."

Given 60 Years For Fatal Stabbing

TROY (AP)—Myron L. Kane, 25, of Hoosick Falls, has been sentenced to serve 60 years to life in Clinton Prison for stabbing to death his 15-year-old girl friend.

Kane, who had been charged with first-degree murder, pleaded guilty yesterday to a reduced charge of second-degree murder.

He was sentenced by County Judge DeForest C. Pitt.

Kane stabbed Marie Ann Crandall of Hoosick Falls 62 times with a hunting knife last July 29 along a rural road. Police said she had resisted Kane's advances after they had been swimming near her home.

Last Wednesday, two psychiatrists found the defendant sane and capable of standing trial.

WKNY Installs New Transmitter

Radio Station WKNY switched over operations to its new transmitter on Albany Avenue today. The new operation consists of a new RCA transmitter. The old transmitter will be installed as an auxiliary. Both transmitters will be operated by remote control from the studios in the Broadway Theatre building.

WKNY has been in the process of relocating since the old site on the Kraus Farm off Albany Avenue Extension was sold as a housing development. As a result of this sale, operations were moved to a temporary site on Murphy Street in November, 1956.

For the new site, WKNY purchased over four acres of land in the lowlands from Arthur Harder and St. John's Episcopal Church. It is located approximately behind the proposed location of the new Temple Emanuel on Albany Avenue. Thousands of feet of copper wire have been installed in the ground and a 300-foot tower has been erected. A modern building has been constructed to house the equipment.

Von Brentano Will Confer With Dulles

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano will fly to Washington Friday to confer with Secretary of State Dulles.

A Foreign Office spokesman said von Brentano was going for "general political talks."

The German minister will go from Rome, where he arrived today with President Theodor Heuss. The latter is making a state visit to Italy.

A spokesman for the German embassy in Rome said von Brentano would return there early next week to accompany Heuss when he has an audience next Wednesday with Pope Pius XII.

Adams Denies Charge

CHICAGO (AP)—Sherman Adams, assistant to the President, emphatically denies that he and other White House staff members "usurp the prerogatives" of President Eisenhower.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Adams told a luncheon meeting of Illinois Republican leaders yesterday.

He said the President's staff is suspect sometimes because it works behind the scenes "to help see the things are done that the President wants done."

"They simply serve the desk of the President," Adams said.

The President, he said, makes the decisions and the so-called palace guard tries to make sure that the President is "the best informed man in the world."

No More Apples, Etc. for Teacher

ROCHESTER (AP)—Competition in gift giving has caused school officials in a Rochester suburb to rule that there are to be no more apples for teachers.

The principals of the 13 schools in the West Irondequoit school district have ordered teachers to stop accepting presents, and have asked parents for cooperation.

In a letter to parents, the principals said:

"In the last few years, the monetary value of gifts to teachers by pupils has increased to a point where a problem has been created."

"Since children are required by law to attend school, it is our feeling that they should not be subjected to competition in the presentation of gifts to the teachers."

Bedtime Snack Cookies Aid Father-Son Relationship

BY GAYNOR MADDOX,

NEA Food and Market Editor

Certainly, all experts admit good relationships between youngsters and parents are the strongest single factor in the battle against juvenile delinquency. Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, father of two growing sons, says, "Don't sell the bedtime snack short. It's a time for shared fun and private man-to-man talks."

Mom, of course, feels the same way. But she hopes the boys, big and little, will use paper plates and cups and dispose of them before leaving the kitchen. Save a wife and mother is good family policy. Here's one mother's contribution to the father-and-son bedtime snacking.

Raisin-Pumpkin Crisps
(Makes about 2½ dozen cookies)
One cup light or dark raisins, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, ½ cup canned pumpkin, 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ginger, ¾ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup coarsely chopped nuts.

Rinse and drain raisins. Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add unbeaten egg and beat until well blended. Stir in pumpkin. Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices, and add to creamed mixture. Stir in vanilla, raisins and nuts. Drop by small spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 13 to 15 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pot roast, noodles, buttered celery root, rye bread, butter or margarine, fresh fruit cup, raisin-pumpkin crisps, coffee, tea, milk.

Yule Lights Will Be Discussed by Sauterties Group

Preparations for completion of the community owned Christmas street lights project of Sauterties Area Chamber of Commerce will be outlined at the regular meeting of the business mens group Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in Sauterties Municipal Building.

Herbert C. Lachmann, chairman of the project said that a group of Chamber members will meet within the next two weeks to assemble four additional strings of lights to be installed with the other 11 strings which were hung across the main business streets last year.

In anticipation of additional donations to the Yule lights fund from merchants and businessmen who did not contribute last year, three cases of colored bulbs have been ordered and will be installed on the strings for this year's display.

Nearly 400 colored bulbs, yellow, red, and green will be interspersed in the strings of white bulbs used last season, he said.

The official lighting of the decorations will signal the annual Christmas parade and kiddie party tentatively scheduled for Friday, Nov. 29.

For the occasion, participating merchants will decorate stores and display windows and a special item sale will initiate the Christmas shopping season.

TILLSON NEWS

Church School Program Discussed at Meeting

TILLSON — The need for greater parent participation in the church school program, and ways and means of developing and stimulating Christian family relationships, was the main topic of discussion at the recent monthly meeting of the church school staff of the Rosendale Reformed Church.

A vigorous campaign of parent evangelism was planned by the group, including personal visits to the home of each church school pupil. Visitation to church school parents by the teachers and other staff members will begin this week, continuing until all church school families have been visited.

Included in the overall plan for parent participation will be periodical family-night programs throughout the coming year, emphasizing the value of Christian fellowship and understanding between the parents and teachers. The recent family-night program on Christian stewardship in the home was the initial endeavor of this kind. The second is tentatively planned for next February.

Mrs. James Schultz, program chairman, lead a discussion of the proposed Christmas program for the church school which will be held Sunday, Dec. 22 at 3 p. m., and final plans were developed.

Reports of church school teachers on use of the Presbyterian Christian Faith and Life curriculum initiated by the Rosendale church school this year indicated improvement in preparation of material by the teaching staff, improved methods of instruction, and greater interest of pupils.

Harrison C. Cornish, director of religious education, requested that teachers prepare lists of books to be considered by the library committee in obtaining volumes to be included in the proposed church library. He also announced that the local leadership training sessions for church school personnel will be resumed beginning Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the parsonage. These classes had recessed during the past month to permit teachers and staff members to attend the Ulster Classis training sessions.

Also present at the meeting were Mrs. George Mollenhauer, church school superintendent, the Rev. Cuyler T. E. Thayer, and the following teachers: James L. Conley and Mmes. Albert Atkins, Viekko Jalanti, Robert Demarest, Elizabeth Wilson and Cuyler Thayer.

At the October meeting, some interest was shown in reviving the study for a water district in Tillson, and if sufficient interest is apparent at the meeting Thursday evening, a committee may be appointed to continue the research work required before an actual cost figure can be ascertained.

All members and any local residents interested in civic affairs are urged to attend the meeting. The purpose of the association is to offer information to the people of Tillson, to exchange ideas, and to plan projects for the betterment of the community.

Ladies Aid Food Sale Scheduled on Saturday

The ladies aid society of the Till-Reformed Church will hold a benefit food sale Saturday at 2 p. m. at Coon's Garage building. The committee in charge consists of Miss Pearl DeForce and Mrs. Marion Horbert.

The annual turkey dinner given by the men of the church will be omitted this year, due to the lack of water.

The ladies aid annual Christmas party has been scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 12. Each member may bring a guest and a gift for herself and guest. Due to the existing water shortage, each member attending is requested to bring a place setting for herself and her guest.

Brochures Show Aid to Districts

Comptroller Arthur Levitt has released a brochure showing state aid for education by individual school districts for the last four years.

Education aid in 1957 amounted to $451.0 million, an increase of 53.6 per cent over payments made in 1954.

"The increase was due in part to rising enrollments during that period but primarily it was due to revisions in the formula for apportionment of state aid to school districts," Comptroller Levitt stated.

Figures for the last four years show a comprehensive picture of the growth in the various school districts.

"The effect of the 1957 legislation, which was particularly beneficial to small common school districts, will be reflected in the payments made during 1957-58. In other words, school aid during the current school years has risen above that of previous years, to an even greater extent than is shown in this brochure," Levitt stated.

The brochure, which is now available for distribution, shows the figures by school year for the various districts within each county; the amount paid to each city school district; each central school district, and each union free school district. For all other school districts the totals are given by county.

Attending were Mrs. Charles Champlin who was acting secretary, Mrs. Elting, Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. N. D. Williams, Mrs. George DuBois, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. Abram Rhodes, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Smalley, Mrs. Chris. ## Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The other day in this column I asked folks who remembered Kingston Point Park if they would write me about their memories when the park was in the height of its popularity.

Received a very nice letter from a friend who does very fine oil paintings and the following is in her own words: "I enjoy your articles about Kingston Point Park very much. How well do I remember it. This spring I painted a picture of the park in the moonlight. With every stroke of the brush, I walked 'in memory' through all the paths, across the bridge to the pier, back up again up the path to the casino, skating rink, penny arcade, etc."

She further writes: I remember the colorful flower beds, the boats in the lagoon, and the beautiful Japanese bandstand, all outlined with lights. Mr. Mueller's Band played every Saturday and Sunday nights, with Bert Morphy from New York singing all the latest songs. Then when they played "Auld Lang Syne" we knew it was 'time for the last trolley car to leave the park."

Remember the Oriental Hotel on the hill, with its large open air dance hall overlooking the Hudson. It was also used for picnics.

The whole park was well lighted with arc-lights. The band stand was like an exquisite jewel, sparkling in a round rich green setting. Remember the mad scramble to get a seat in the last trolley cars. If it was a very warm night, there would be at least eight cars on the two tracks. Some of the boys had to hang on from the running boards. What lovely times we had.

Incidentally the picture I painted of Kingston Point Park is now the property of my neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ambrose. The letter was signed Hilda Markle. Perhaps others will also write in about their memories of the park.

Saw a number of the school exhibits in store windows around town. The George Washington School art exhibits of the boats was interesting. Perhaps in the coming Hudson - Fulton - Champlain celebration a contest could be run of drawings of famous boats along the river from the Clermont to the present time. I would like to see more scale drawings of the Clermont and the Half Moon, as taken from the replicas which were used in the 1909 Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

Perhaps a group or service club could give a prize to the student drawing the most accurate, the most careful sketch of the Clermont or Half-Moon. It could be done on a good sheet of drawing paper with some body to it and could be matted or framed so it can be displayed properly. I am sure between the Kingston City Library and the Senate House Museum library all the material needed could be found for the dimensions, colors, flags and details so that a fine detailed drawing could be made.

The Mary Powell with all its decks would make a fine drawing for an art student who cares to spend some time in research on a drawing board.

I know an original model of any of these boats is difficult for an amateur but no doubt with care and accuracy an interesting model could be made.

I think it would make a worthwhile educational project in the history of the Hudson River.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. Some women can't see fall housecleaning time for dust! Two teen-agers drove a car through the side of a home in Illinois. There are worse ways of breaking up a home.

There came a loud knock on the door. The doctor, who had just settled himself for a nap, got up. Doctor (to man at the door)—What is it? Man (unhappily)—I've been bitten by a dog. Doctor—Well, don't you know that my hours of consultation are between twelve and three? Man (groaning)—Yes, but the dog didn't know. He bit me at twenty to four. The probable reason some

Heart Shift Would Set

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Everything happens to me," moaned, Hard Luck Joe. "Now it's nine-card suits."

"So what!" grumbled his unfortunate partner. "If you had enough sense to shift to a heart at trick three South would have been set, nine-card suit and all."

Joe had opened the king of spades and after receiving the deuce from his partner had cashed his ace of diamonds and then played the ace of spades.

South had simply ruffed and run the rest of his clubs, discarding down to the ace and queen of hearts in dummy. The last club lead had squeezed East. He had to unguard his king of hearts in order to retain the king of diamonds whereupon South had gone up with the ace of hearts and dropped East's king.

A heart shift by Joe at trick three would have broken up the squeeze and South would have gone down one trick. Or even better, South might have taken a desperate heart finesse in which case he would have been set two tricks, not one.

Joe had a reason for playing the second spade. He suggested that East's deuce of spades might have been a singleton. East claimed that this was most unlikely since South had risked a vulnerable five-club bid with only one ace. Of course East could not have a doubleton spade. In that case he would have played his higher card in that suit.

As usual, I must agree with Joe's partner. East had doubled five clubs. Either he held a sure trump trick or the king of hearts or both. A heart shift was imperative and when Joe played the ace of spades he had produced his own bad luck.

WALLKILL NEWS

Lions to Donate Play Proceeds to Library

WALLKILL—At a meeting of the Wallkill Lions Club held at the Dixie Farms, members voted unanimously to donate a large percentage of the proceeds earned by the club in sponsoring the Footlight Club production, "Picnic" to the Wallkill Free Library.

The Lions designated a committee to assist the library to select books which will be added.

Other projects which the club decided to continue because of their success last year were the community ice skating, the Easter egg hunt and barn dances.

Ice skating for children, teenagers and adults will again be held this winter on the Hatch Pond. Joe Doolittle is chairman of the committee. Refreshments will be provided free to the children.

Chairman Dick Schoonmaker spoke for his committee on the barn dances and they will begin Saturday evening, Feb. 15 at the New Hurley Church Hall. Music will be provided by the Kentucky Moonshiners. John Sloan, Jim Howell and Jerry DeWitt will assist on refreshments. Dances will be held every third Saturday.

Harry Pfaff was accepted into membership. This addition raises the membership to 38, an all time high at the club meeting, the members enjoyed a film on manufacturing in the Philippine Islands. This was through the courtesy of Jim McClung and the International Harvester Company.

The next regular club meeting will be held at the Dixie Farm on November 26. Guest speaker will be Lion Al Schneller, who is a game protector for the State Conservation Department.

Due to the fact that the second regular meeting would fall on Christmas Eve, it was decided to cancel this one. Instead, on Tuesday, Dec. 10 the Lions will hold their Christmas party for members, wives and children. Santa will be on hand for gifts for all the children.

There will be no meeting of the executive board on December 6.

A Blood Bank report was also heard from the Lions Club chairman, Ralph Luks. The Bloodmobile from St. Luke's collected 40 pints of blood Tuesday for the community Blood Assurance Program. Lions' quotas are almost filled. Mrs. James Crowell, general chairman of the Blood Assurance Program in Wallkill, expressed the appreciation for the turnout. The village still needs 35 pints, however, to complete its program.

Home Unit Will Meet Tuesday at 11 A.M.

The Wallkill Home Demonstration Unit will meet Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 11 a. m. at the Community Room of the Valley National Bank Building. The morning session will consist of the second lesson on "Meat Cuts" by Mrs. John Romaine, food lesson leader.

Science Is Most Important Today For Whole World

(Editor's Note: Science has made much of the world in which we now live—instantaneous communication, fast travel, modern conveniences. But the world of the future is a different world, no longer shackled to the ground. What scientists accomplish in the future depends on how they operate. This is the second of five articles.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK (AP)—The Aladdin's lamp of our times is science.

In a brief span have come jet planes, fine cars, fresh food from all lands for the table, wrinkle-proof clothes, beautiful bridges and highways, air-conditioned homes, TV, electricity and machines to save human muscle and toil, drugs and vaccines to save health and lives.

These are some gifts from science in a list just beginning, plus H-bombs and guided missiles for man's arsenal of defense or aggression born of his hate, greed or fear.

It's the Individuals

The real creator is not science—defined as systematized knowledge—but the individual scientists and engineers who won the knowledge through intelligence, curiosity, trained minds and observation.

Anyone can make up a theory or have a bright idea. He could be right or dead wrong.

Scientists also work on theories and hunches. But they have advantages. First they have a lot of information for likely good guesses, building on the knowledge of men and women who had gone adventuring and discovering before them, explains Dr. Arthur Galston, professor of biology at Yale.

They also know how to make the experiments to learn whether the hunch is right. The scientist knows he will get his fingers burned if he allows wishful thinking or emotions to influence his judgment of the test results.

Publishes Findings

If the results look sound, the scientist publishes them, for his colleagues to see—and pick flaws. This is the scientific method of research to coax secrets from nature to benefit man's curiosity or his material well-being.

Science grows by theories, trying to establish sound guiding laws. These laws are kept only so long as they jibe with experimental results and objective observations. Otherwise they are amended, expanded, or abandoned.

The scientist is interested in learning new facts, developing new ideas or—as an engineer—making them practically available and useful.

Industry, government, business and the public carry the ball from there. The scientist can find himself highly praised for a new vaccine, or blamed for helping make an A-bomb.

The scientist has very valid, useful opinions for public information and guidance in his own specialty.

Not Versed in All Fields

But for all his objectivity in that field, he can be quite at sea in opinions about banking, politics, crime, rock 'n' roll, unless he's taken the trouble to become well informed on those subjects, and doesn't let personal emotions and prejudices influence him.

He becomes a scientist because he is curious, and feels a challenge.

One main appeal is that "science is an endless adventure," in the words of Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology.

It's the adventure of discovery, through research.

Ave Scores Like On Space Facts

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Harriman accused the Eisenhower administration last night of "not laying the facts frankly" about space age problems before the American public.

He also accused the administration of "not calling on the people to make whatever adjustments are necessary to meet and face the new world situation."

The governor spoke in Brooklyn at a convocation marking the 31st anniversary of Long Island University.

PSC Extends Date On New Water Rates

ALBANY (AP)—The Public Service Commission today extended to Jan. 29 its order suspending rate increases proposed by the New York Water Service Corp.

The company seeks to raise rates for the approximately 83,000 customers it serves through plants at Rochester, Haverstraw, Clyde in Wayne County, and the Long Island plants at Glen Cove, Woodhaven, and Merrick-Massapequa.

The company originally proposed rate boosts totaling $504,200. This was suspended by the PSC until Nov. 29, while hearings were held.

Recently, the company proposed a further, $53,700 increase in rates at the Rochester plant. This would bring the Rochester increase to $249,000 and the system-wide boost to $557,900.

The PSC said it would need more time to conduct additional hearings before it could reach a decision in the case.

'To Insure Promptness'

The custom of tipping began in 16th and 17th century coffee houses of England. Customers were expected to drop coins into a brass-bound box inscribed "To Insure Promptness," from which phrase the word "tip" evolved.

The corps is open for recruits 16 years of age or older, it was announced. Applications may be directed to the post home or to Captain McCordle or Business Manager Munson. (Reynolds photo).

Charges City Dwellers Denied Equal Voice

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The distribution of seats in Congress and state legislatures has been juggled in such a manner as to deny cities and their voters their full and equal voice, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said yesterday.

In a speech to the Florida League of Municipalities, Kennedy called apportionment in federal and state legislature bodies the "most blatant of the discriminations that treat our city dwellers like second class citizens."

Kennedy said state legislatures originally heavily weighed in favor of rural areas "have either gerrymandered the geographic shape of state legislative and congressional districts in order to keep the cities in bondage or they have failed to reapportion those districts or reallocate seats to give proper recognition to urban population increases."

Demand for Farm Lands Ups Value To Record Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—An increasing demand for farm land — by both farmers—continues to push rural real estate values to new record peaks, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Farm real estate values for the nation as a whole increased 2 per cent between last July 1 and Nov. 1 and 8 per cent during the past 12 months.

Up 20 Per Cent

These latest increases put the values up 20 per cent during the past four years. By contrast, the general level of prices paid for farm products declined about 3½ per cent during the 20-year period.

In a report on the farm realty market, the department said no end to the rising prices of farm land is in sight.

"Market prices for farm real estate are expected to advance further in 1958, although the increases may be a little less than in 1956," the department said.

"The supply of farms for sale continued to be tight during the summer and early fall of 1957, while demand for farm land increased somewhat over 1956. Nationally the most important type of demand for farmland was to enlarge present farms."

Other Factors

"Second in importance was the demand for tenants who wished to become owners and from others who wanted land to become farmers. Next in order were demands from non-farm investors, non-farmers seeking part-time farms and rural homesites, and non-farmers buying land for non-farm uses."

New Bandage

A new non-slip bandage is announced as the first major advance in surgical gauze bandages in 70 years. The new bandage stretched to fit, clings to itself, makes a neat bandage possible even on awkward parts of the body.

Other Jobs May Bring More Money To Farmers in '58

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today 1958 may put more dollars into individual farm pockets than this year but not from any increase in total farm income.

In a forecast prepared for its annual farm outlook conference being attended by state and federal farm officials and educators, the department said there is a possibility that farm folk may earn more next year from off-farm sources.

In this category are investments in non-agricultural enterprises and off-farm employment. More and more farmers are taking on part-time work in towns and cities.

The report said that a further decline in the farm population—reflecting effects of growing technology and unification of farms—could well raise the income average of farmers.

The department said farmers' realized net income—amount left from receipts after paying production costs—was at an annual rate of $12,100,000,000 during the first three quarters of this year compared with $11,900,000,000 last year.

A small increase in cash receipts from marketings was forecast for 1958. But these probably will be offset, the report said, by a reduction in government payments under the soil bank program and by a further increase in farm production costs.

Port Even

PORT EWEN—There will be a P-TA meeting Wednesday at the Common District No. 1 School, Clay Road, Nov. 20 at 8:15 p. m. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey will speak on "Nationalized P-TA." Classrooms will be open from 7:30 until 8:15 p. m. for parent conferences. The meeting will start promptly at 8:15 p. m.

The Taxpayers and Voters Association, Inc., of the Town of Ulster, will hold a meeting at Emma Weygant School Thursday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. Former County Judge William A. Kelly will be the speaker. William Pesella, chairman of the Town Board relations committee will give a report on the budget for the coming year.

Vicar Will Lead Onteora Forum Talk Wednesday

PHOENICIA—On Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 8 p. m., the Forum in Onteora Central School will present a program, the subject dealing with juvenile delinquency, an item of deep personal interest to everyone.

The Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, vicar of St. Augustine's and St. Christopher's Parish of Trinity Church, New York City, will be one of the guest speakers. The Rev. Mr. Myers will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Porter that evening at a supper in his honor. His topic will be "Our Responsibility to Youth." The Rev. Mr. Myers' book, "Light up the Dark Street" recently published by Seabury Press has received high praise from the critics. It is the story of his work with youthful gang members in a deprived neighborhood of New York. He is chairman of the Youth Division of the Lower Eastside Neighborhoods Association. It is a community association organized to improve the Lower Eastside and to help old and new neighbors of all ethnic origins and religions to live together in peace and harmony.

Members and officers of the association include Miss Helen Hall, executive director of Henry Street Settlement, Judge Jacob Markowitz of the State Supreme Court, Father Thomas Keogh of St. Mary's and Rose's, the Rev. Mr. Myers and Rabbi Seymour Nulman of the Jacob David Congregation.

Outstanding contributions of the association have been in the field of youth and community arts. The association's much publicized free summer concerts on the East River drive play to 30,000 listeners each summer and are broadcast by WNYC and abroad by Voice of America. An art show held at St. Marks-on-the-Bowrie exhibits canvases of 300 Lower Eastside artists, attracts thousands of grown ups and children. LENA, as the association is known in New York, is considered a pilot project which may set a pattern in other urban communities. Cooper Union and New York University are both interested and work closely with the association.

Rose A. Porter is the executive director of LENA. It is through close association with the Rev. Mr. Myers in the work that the Porters have come to know him. Mrs. Porter's husband, Dr. Sam Porter is a dentist in Phenicia. The Rev. Mr. Myers will be their guest for several days.

National Award Won by Kingston Insurance Man

ALEX WOOLF

Among 532 persons recently granted the Chartered Life Underwriter designation at national exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters held in Detroit was Alex Woolf, of 142 Elmendorf Street.

The American College was established in 1927 and has conferred the CLU designations on a total of 6,718 men and women who represent life insurance companies or who are identified with home office operations of the companies.

Most candidates for the CLU designations take at least three or four years to complete their preparatory studies and pass the five examinations.

Woolf has been engaged in the insurance business for the past 16 years and represents the Paul Revere Life Insurance Company, and the Massachusetts Protective Association.

He is a past president of Congregation Ahaveth Israel, and is senior deacon of Rondout Lodge No. 343, F & AM, and president of the Craftsman's Club of that lodge.

Woolf is a member of Kingston Lodge 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Jewish Community Center, National Association of Life Underwriters and American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolf are the parents of three children, David, a senior at Kingston High School; Jerry, aviation electrician third class, U. S. Navy, and Mrs. Morris L. Samuels, of Newburgh. They have one granddaughter, Tanya, also of Newburgh.

Coroner F. Eugene Ingram said she suffered a fractured skull. He issued a certificate of accidental death.

Sees More Services Up to County Action

SYRACUSE (AP)—In the future, county governments will have to perform more services for metropolitan areas, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt said yesterday.

Levitt said it was apparent to him that "certain types of service can best be performed by a locality which has large jurisdiction." The comptroller spoke at a statewide conference on home rule attended by 65 officials of counties and towns.

Gov. Harriman, in a message to the conference, said the transfer of some services to county government would be one solution to "confusion and inefficiency" caused when metropolitan problems fall into several jurisdictions.

Adlai, Dulles Meet

Campaign Blasts Thing of Past In Cordial Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—You never would have guessed during the 1956 presidential campaign that it could happen.

But yesterday Adlai Stevenson became a guide for the man he called "an unguided missile" in 1956, Secretary of State Dulles.

Dulles himself kept quiet in 1956 while Stevenson blasted President Eisenhower and the secretary on foreign policy and Eisenhower replied in kind.

Actually the Eisenhower-Dulles and Stevenson differences were more of degree than of kind. The campaign oratory magnified them.

Disagree on Details

The three men disagree more on details than on general needs in foreign policy.

Time passes. This country needs to find ways to strengthen its ties with its allies in NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

And the Eisenhower administration, wanting support from Democrats as well as Republicans, asked Stevenson to help out as a consultant.

Stevenson will work without pay. After talking with Dulles yesterday, and being assigned an office across the hall from him, Stevenson said of the meeting: "Very encouraging." He added that Dulles was "extremely cordial and friendly."

Quite a Switch

This was quite a switch from 1956 when these were some of the things Stevenson was saying about the Eisenhower-Dulles handling of foreign affairs:

"Disastrous... appeasement... provocation... deceit... boasting... bluffing... failure... bankruptcy."

And he complained because Eisenhower wouldn't agree to some of his suggestions, such as stopping H-bomb tests.

"New ideas," he said, "are dismissed with epithets, abuse and distortion."

Besides the "unguided missile" crack, Stevenson derided Dulles as a man who talked "slogans" and "dangerous nonsense" and had been kept in the political ball game "just one brink too long."

May Join Talks Later

Instead of himself asking Stevenson to help out now, Eisenhower let Dulles do the asking. But once Stevenson accepted, Eisenhower sent him a note which said: "Delighted you and Foster will be getting together."

And he said he hoped to join later in conferences with Stevenson.

It wasn't that way in 1956. Then Eisenhower was saying about Stevenson and other Democrats: "Anguished politicians" and "men of fretting fear," who are spreading "smog" and "bunk" and "wicked nonsense" and "incredible folly" with their "rubber yardsticks" and their "reckless oratory." Still, 1956 was a milder campaign than 1952.

Population of 37,000

There was a time when pharmacists often were called "Doc." Doubtless it was a complimentary gesture.

Even in this late day, the pharmacist frequently is asked to diagnose and prescribe by his customers.

But like the shoemaker, we pharmacists stick to our own lasts. We neither diagnose nor prescribe. These health team functions fall within the special province of physicians both by law and professional training.

As a member of the health team, we are an intermediary, serving both the doctor and the patient. Our job is to compound your prescriptions carefully and promptly.

Girl Scout National Convention Is Held In Philadelphia; Area Delegates Attend

The Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. held the largest convention in its history, adopted a new constitution and elected a new president at the 34th national convention of Girl Scouts held at Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Nov. 11-15.

More than 8,000 delegates and observers, representing Girl Scout Councils across the country and a total Girl Scout membership of more than three million, voted unanimously to accept a new Girl Scout constitution. Among the delegates were Mrs. Donovan F. Buehring of Kingston, Ulster County Girl Scout president, and Mrs. Calvin Wygant Sr. of Marlboro, Council vice president, representing the local council officially.

Delegates came from all 48 states and from far-flung Girl Scout units around the world, and from Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and American Samoa. In addition to adult officers and leaders more than 700 Senior Scouts from every part of the country came to Philadelphia to serve as convention aides.

Constitution Changes

The new constitution which the delegates discussed in historic Philadelphia provides for meetings of the National Council of Girl Scouts every three years instead of the previous two-year cycle of meetings. Officers and members of the National Board of Directors will now hold three-year terms instead of two-year terms.

In the new Girl Scout Constitution, philosophical concepts have been separated from the main body of the constitution. The Preamble now embodies the purpose and fundamentals of the organization. It reads, in part, "We do dedicate ourselves to the purpose of inspiring girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens."

Joseph N. Welch, Boston attorney and authority on the United States Constitution, set the stage for discussion of the new Girl Scout constitution.

Mr. Welch declared that "making decisions and forming opinions today is the stock and matter of our present-day civilization."

New Officers Elected

The delegates elected new officers and members to the Board of Directors. Mrs. Charles U. Culmer of Libertyville, Ill., was elected national president.

Delegates also elected Mrs. Malcolm S. Edgar of Summit, N. J., first vice president; Mrs. William T. Wilson Jr., of Winston-Salem, N. C., second vice president; Mrs. Stanley T. Bates of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, third vice president; Mrs. Vincent Woodbury Gribbs Jr., of Riverside, Calif., fourth vice president; Mrs. Frank L. Weil of New York City, treasurer; and Miss Marie F. Spang of Milton, Mass., secretary.

Delegates heard reports on the role of girls and women in the next few decades. Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, assistant to the secretary of labor, for Women's Affairs, told the Girl Scout convention that today's generation of girls will find more and more business and professional opportunities open to them in the next decade or two.

New Theme Selected

Mrs. Roy F. Layton, outgoing president of the Girl Scouts, pointed out in the keynote speech that Girl Scouting has a serious responsibility in preparing girls for the future.

Introducing "You Can Count on Her" as the new three-year theme for Girl Scouts across the country, Mrs. Layton declared that young people today are ready for the responsibility if adults will only give them the opportunities they need. One of the most important jobs ahead for Girl Scouting, Mrs. Layton said, is to give each girl the self-confidence she needs for the tomorrow she will have to face.

Miss Dorothy C. Stratton, national executive director, predicted that the Girl Scouts would have one million new members by 1960. The increase would push total membership over the four million, she said.

Miss Stratton pointed out that the membership increase has exceeded the rate of growth of the girl population.

She cited four reasons for the increase: a stable and free form of government; the freedom allowed girls and women in this country; the attachment of Americans to voluntary organizations; and the American genius for organization.

Study Reports Given

Delegates also heard a report on a study of girls conducted by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan for the Girl Scout organization. The study is being conducted in two parts. The first part is on the attitudes and needs of adolescent girls in general. The second part, now under way, deals specifically with the Girl Scout program and its service to girls and is expected to be completed early in 1958.

In forecasting some of the results of these surveys, Edith Conant, director of the program department at Girl Scout national headquarters in New York, declared that the Girl Scouts will be "the first national youth organization to have a program built on participation of membership."

Miss Conant suggested that every Girl Scout troop find at least one service project that seems challenging and grown-up; that Councils survey the possibilities of more co-ed activities for girls over 13; and that councils continue to extend Girl Scout membership to "hard-to-reach" girls who belong to no leisure-time club.

Couples Club Meets

A parody based on "This Is Your Life" was the highlight of a recent meeting of Temple Emanuel Couples Club.

The play, under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Greenspan, included the following couples: Mr. and Mrs. George Goldfarb, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Naigles, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Kamen, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sayles, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Silberman.

Harriet Peck Weds Robert M. Werner On November 17; To Live in Kingston

MRS. ROBERT M. WERNER

(Hague Photo)

Miss Harriet Peck, daughter of Samuel Peck of 219 Madison Avenue, Albany, and the late Mrs. Peck, became the bride of Robert M. Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Werner of 23 Chambers Street on Sunday, Nov. 17 at 2 p. m.

The ceremony and reception was held at Jack's Restaurant, Albany. Officiating was Rabbi Kenneth Rabineau of Albany.

The bride was escorted to the canopy by her father and sister, Mrs. Harold Cantor. For her wedding she wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over candlelight satin with fitted bodice, mandarin neckline, long pointed sleeves and a very full skirt featuring tiers of tulle ruffles with an overskirt of panels of lace and tulle. Her fingertip silk illusion veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls and brilliants. She carried a prayer book marked with a white orchid.

Mrs. Louis Plesser, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of crimson glow velvet bodice and tulle over taffeta bouffant skirt with matching hemline, trimmed with seed pearls and brilliants with a circular veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of candy striped feathered carnations.

Miss Lynn Renee Reich, the bridegroom's niece, served as the flower girl in a petal pink frock. She carried a nosegay of pink and white flowers.

Joseph Kline was the best man. Ushers included the bride's brother, Bernard Peck, and the bride's brothers-in-law, Harold Cantor and Louis Plesser. Also serving as ushers were the bridegroom's brothers-in-law, Murray Reich and Robert Oshinsky and Irving Lesick of Kingston. Stuart Werner, brother of the bridegroom, served as junior usher.

David Mark Peck of Albany, the bride's nephew, served as ringbearer.

For her wedding trip south, the bride wore a traveling ensemble consisting of a beige tweed suit with matching accessories and a brown hat.

The bride was graduated from Philip Schuyler High School and was employed by the New York State Health Department of Albany, Division of Laboratories and Research.

The bridegroom was graduated from Kingston High School and is now employed by IBM in Kingston.

"Quality Is Remembered Long After Price Is Forgotten"

The record book goofed and the reaction from the 1940 Kingston High School football squad was quick and sharp.

It appears that in a compilation of the Kingston-Mon Pleasant series a few days ago a 6-0 victory for the Maroon over the Raiders was overlooked.

A letter from one of the team's brightest stars, a couple of telephone calls and a check with Coach G. Warren Kias straightened out the record and the record books.

The 1940 squad coached by Tommy Weems, who originally came to Kingston to play professional basketball, whipped the Raiders in the second game of the season. This aggregation, one of the best in the pre-World War II era won six games, lost one and tied one that year. They played Middletown to a 6-6 tie and lost to Poughkeepsie 25-0. Among the victims were Amsterdam, 15-0; Port Jervis, 12-0; Highland, 26-13, and Newburgh 14-6 in the traditional Thanksgiving Day finale.

A crack backfield combination of Jack Fallon, Joe Benjamin, Eddie Esposito and Billy Ball operated behind a line that included Bobby Messinger, the late Buddy Ellsworth, John Brinnier, Fred Hofbauer, Nick Lemister, Frank Tucker and Harry Stahl. Jackie Short and Ed Leudtke were first string backfield subs. There were others, too, John Ray Mayone, Bobby Brown, Jigger McLaughlin, Cy Crosswell, Al and Lou Salzmann and a few we cannot recall.

Coach Kias cleared up some of the confusion by pointing out that the interchanging of Schenectady and Mont Pleasant in the record books could be misleading.

The 1930 Kingston squad, with some of the holdovers from the powerful 1929 aggregation, among them Luke Roosa and Herbie Clarke, defeated a combination of Schenectady schools, 12-0. "Schenectady" became Mont Pleasant in 1931 and although the books carry both names, it has been Mont Pleasant since that time. Ergo, the 1940 mixup. And apologies to the members of the 1940 team for trying to steal a victory from them they so richly earned.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

While in an apologetic mood, so sorry we overlooked Flo Bonesteele's 406 a few nights back. She has hit higher totals, but this happened to be the first of the 1957-58 season. . . . George Palmater, the Poughkeepsie scribe, has already started beating the drums for Deke Johnson's selection as Player of the Year. . . . Wonder if Elliott Nevins, the WSKN sportscaster, will enlighten us poor mortals why the folks who stage car races refer to their promotions as a rally, when everybody else says rally? Nevins, incidentally, points out that the Woodstock Iron Works, the organization sponsoring the Dec. 8 event, is interested in more than just racing cars. It seeks to encourage careful and skillful driving on public highways, to provide and regulate events and exhibitions for motor cars, and their owners, to encourage through the medium of competitive events, a sense of camaraderie and fair play, and to provide for its members an opportunity to further their knowledge on the operation and maintenance of motor cars.

Of Men and Mice:

There is a new kind of atomic guided missile and it's bound to bring joy to the ever suffering duffer. It's a nuclear golf ball. The B. F. Goodrich company recently announced that irradiated golf balls had been under test for nearly four years. The balls are not radioactive, but after two minutes' exposure to high-powered gamma rays, they fly through the air with much greater ease and are much more scuff resistant than pre-atomic age balls. Now if they would only equip the ball with radar eyes for putting. . . . Siena College plays St. Bonaventure in its 1957-58 basketball opener Dec. 3 at Olean and has a Jan. 29 date with Army at the West Point field house. . . . There now seems to be no doubt but that basketball is the answer to the question: "What sport draws the biggest attendance in the United States?" A recent study in a basketball year book pinpointed the total to 142,858,698. Even making allowances for urinals who were counted twice, most authorities agree that high school church league, YMCA, college, professional, AAU, armed services and other forms of the sport draw well over 100,000,000 every season.

Phillies Sign Rookie Outfielder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have signed Mel (Sonny) Robinson and have assigned him to Olean, N. Y., of the New York-Pennsylvania Class D League for 1958.

"Phillies' scouts were impressed by the hard-hitting outfielder's performance in sandlot baseball. Robinson, a 19-year-old, six-foot-three Negro, was too old in his senior year for high school competition. He carried a 1956 batting average of .462.

The Phillies announced the signing yesterday.

Sweeney Threatening Marshall in Ice Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Sweeney of Providence has rushed up to challenge Hershey's Willie Marshall for the individual scoring lead in the American Hockey League.

Sweeney picked up four points in last week's action, giving him 23 for the campaign. Marshall had only a single point and raised his total to 28.

It's Rookie Year

First-Year Crop Is Rated Finest In Pro Football

By DON WEISS
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League came of age some time ago, so it's with another reason in mind everyone's calling it a "rookie league" for 1957.

Cleveland's challenge to New York in the Eastern Division, the erratic play of the Chicago Bears while Detroit, San Francisco and Baltimore unexpectedly contend for the Western Title—all have been major surprises of the pro season.

But none matches in importance the way a score of more first year men have muscled and finessed into the headlines of a league generally considered the showcase of football perfection.

"Brown, Podoley, Owens, Gallimore, Bosseler, Sutton, Arnett, Barnes, Harris, Gosh, you need a roster in front of you to remember them all, there are so many," Jim Lee Howell, coach of the Giants, said today.

"Sure, it's the best rookie crop I've seen since I've been in pro football," he said, "an unusually large group of unusually good players. The way they've worked out, maybe we should have kept more."

Giants Didn't Find Them
A dozen or more rookies reported to the Giants' training camp last summer but with virtually the entire roster intact from the championship team of 1956 and one that is comparatively young, the club kept only two newcomers—defense backs Johnny Bookman of Miami (Fla.) and Ed Crawford of Mississippi.

Most of the 11 other teams, however, went in heavily for first-year men—something close to professional suicide for a pro club in previous years.

They've done so well that it has taken a spectacular day for a veteran of the Frank Gifford, Norm Brocklin, or Bobby Layne stamp to get his name in the papers.

Jimmy Brown (Syracuse All-America) and Mil Campbell (Indiana) have had a lot to do with bringing the Browns back to the top. Washington's Redskins have a starting backfield of three rookies, Jim Podoley of Central Michigan, Ed Sutton of North Carolina, and Don Bosseler of Miami (Fla.), with Eddie LeBaron the only veteran.

Brown Popular Choice
Willie Gallimore (Florida A&M) has run wild here and there for the Bears, who also have an ace defensive rookie in Vic Zucco (Michigan State). Billy Barnes (Wake Forest), Clarence Peaks (Michigan State), and Sonny Jurgens (Duke), on offense, and Jimmy Harris (Oklahoma) on defense have come along fast with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Howell was asked which he'd pick as the most outstanding? "Well, of course I'm more familiar with the Eastern Division, although I saw most of the Western teams during the exhibitions," Howell said, "but you can't bypass Brown and Podoley. Brown's a big, strong boy who overpowers you. With experience, he'll find finesse and he will be quite a fullback."

"Podoley should become a truly great player. He's got size, speed, can catch passes and can run. The Redskins have a real future star in that boy."

Mich. State Regains No. 1 Spot in Poll

The Associated Press

Michigan State leaptfrogged from fourth place into the No. 1 spot today in the weekly Associated Press football poll—with a margin of just nine points over second place Auburn.

The Spartans, who led the poll at the start of the season, but then dropped to the also-rans when they fell before Purdue, then spurted past Texas A&M and Oklahoma, who had run 1-2 the previous week.

It was by the narrowest of margins that Michigan State edged Auburn—one of the two remaining undefeated, untied major schools in the country. Duffy Daugherty's outfit totaled 1,851 points to 1,842 for Auburn.

Auburn Holds Edge

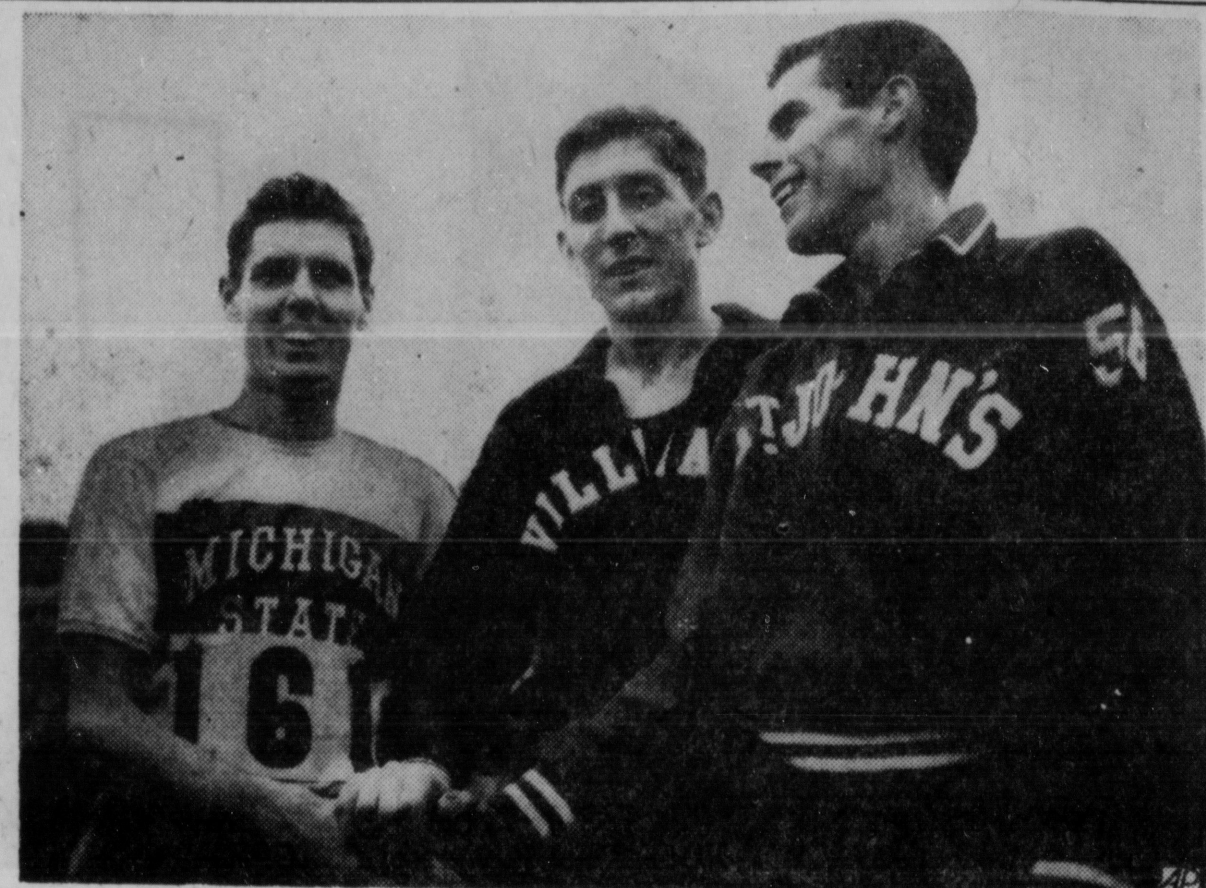

Yet Auburn had more first-place votes, 88.87. But it was on the second-place votes that Michigan State climbed to the top. The Spartans had 54 to 39 for Auburn. Ironically, neither one of these teams, which seem destined to fight it out for the national championship, will appear in a bowl game come Jan. 1. Michigan State was in the Rose Bowl last New Year's and is ineligible to return. Not that it makes any difference in the end, because Ohio State won the Big 10 title.

Auburn is in the bad graces of the NCAA and is not permitted to participate in post-season play. Otherwise, the Plainsmen from Alabama would certainly have been the host team in Sugar Bowl.

Spartans Play KS

Michigan State has one more game to play, against Kansas State, while Auburn still must clash with Florida State and Alabama. The performances of the two teams in the remaining games will go a long way toward determining the national champion.

The top 10 underwent a thorough shakeup as a result of last Saturday's action. Texas A&M, which lost to Rice by 7-6, dropped from first to fourth, and Oklahoma, 7-0 victim of Notre Dame, tumbled from second to sixth, while Tennessee, which took a 14-7 beating from Mississippi, dropped right out of sight. Iowa dipped from fifth to eighth.

TOP THREE IN LONG GRIND—Michigan State University's Crawford Kennedy, left, is congratulated by runners-up Ron Delany, center, of Villanova, and Peter Close, of St. John's University of Brooklyn, after winning 49th annual

IC4A cross country run at Van Cortlandt Park, The Bronx, N. Y., Nov. 18. Kennedy, 22-year-old sophomore from Toronto, Canada, covered the five-mile course in 24 minutes, 14.8 seconds. (AP Wirephoto)

Mormile Lone Letterman

Sawyers Face Big Rebuilding Job for Up-Coming Season

Saugerties High faces the herculean task of launching its first season of basketball in the tough DCSL with only one returning regular.

Don Mormile, a 6-2 operative, is the lone starter back from last year's great quintet which won 18 and lost 3 and captured the UCAI championship. Backing him up are squadmen Dave Hoffman and Eddie Rizzo.

Coach Bud Smith has a tremendous rebuilding job on his hands. His chances ride with the improvement of the three aforementioned returnees and the development of players promoted from the Jayvees.

Newcomers Impressive

Barry Wolven and Jack Naccarato are two of the newcomers who loom big in Smith's plans. Wolven is a crack shotmaker and brings with him impressive credentials from the Jayvees where he was a top scorer. Naccarato didn't play for the Sawyers last year but is expected to make the grade.

The hopes of the Sawyers received a severe setback when Larry Risdal met with an untimely accident this summer which has forced him to bypass the campaign. The rangy 6-3 senior was being counted on to start at center.

Graduation Loss

Graduation stripped the Sawyers of almost their entire squad. Principal losses included high-scoring Billy Zeilman, Skip Kulman, Don Whitaker and Jim Erecz. Austin Kerin, 6-7 center and the leading scorer, is still in school but has used up his eligibility.

Saugerties will play an 18-game schedule beginning with a non-league contest Nov. 26, in the afternoon, against Windham. Ten of the games are outside the league while the remaining ones, of course, are in the DCSL.

Yardley, Russell Leaders in NBA

NEW YORK (AP)—George Yardley, the slick, jump-shooting specialist of the Detroit Pistons, and defensive stalwart Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics are important reasons why their teams are leading their respective divisions in the National Basketball Assn.

Weekly statistics released today showed Yardley holding the highest scoring average and Russell considerably ahead in rebounds. Yardley averaged 31 points in four games last week, boosting his season's mark to 28.7 points a game. In point production, he ranks behind Dolph Schayes of Syracuse, Bob Pettit of St. Louis and Bill Sharman of Boston. But George has played two less games than the other three.

Schayes has 279 points followed by Pettit with 276, Sharman with 261, and Yardley and Philadelphia's Neil Johnston with 258 each. Russell, who is sixth in individual scoring, has snared 288 rebounds while Pettit is the runner-up with 170. Russell set a record last Saturday by coming down with 49 rebounds.

homa, 7-0 victim of Notre Dame, tumbled from second to sixth, while Tennessee, which took a 14-7 beating from Mississippi, dropped right out of sight. Iowa dipped from fifth to eighth.

In addition to Michigan State, Auburn jumped one notch. Ohio State moved up to third with 23 first-place votes. Mississippi moved from eighth to fifth, Navy jumped from ninth to seventh and Notre Dame came out of the depths to ninth. Army maintained its status quo in 10th place.

BOB IS SIDELINED—Boston Celtics pro basketball ace Bob Cousy reads a bedtime story to his five-year-old daughter, Mary Patricia, at home in Worcester, Mass. Bob is expected to be sidelined for two or three weeks after suffering leg injury in game Nov. 16. (AP Wirephoto)

Cousy to Undergo Minor Surgery

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Boston Celtics star Bob Cousy had a doctor's appointment to undergo minor surgery today for a thigh injury suffered in a collision he claims was "not accidental."

Cousy, scheduled to see Dr. Paul V. Shannon at St. Vincent's Hospital to reduce swelling, said that Philadelphia center Neil Johnston "put his knee out to get me" in the Celtics 111-89 victory last Saturday.

Johnston said at his home in Philadelphia "I definitely did not injure Cousy on purpose and I believe he knows that."

Cousy, who will be lost to the unbeaten National Basketball Assn. champions for at least two weeks, said he was carrying the ball down court and Johnston "put his knee out to try and stop me instead of playing defense."

"I've had it happen to me seven or eight times since I've been in the league," the All-Star backcourt ace said. "It is always the big guy who sticks that knee out instead of playing defense and I always get it in the same place—the thigh."

"Cousy had the ball and the Celtics were coming up court. Lots of times the ball carrier will stop short and make the guard bump into him. Cousy stopped and I stopped short in front of him."

"He faked one way and went the other and we collided. I thought he charged me but they called the foul on me."

Cousy and Philadelphia owner-general manager Eddie Gottlieb agreed there was no plot by the Warriors to injure him intentionally.

"We weren't out to 'get him' and we don't play that way," Gottlieb said.

Informed of Gottlieb's comment, Cousy said: "I agree Philadelphia was not out to get me particularly. I don't want to be the cause of any ridiculous feud. . . . But I disagree the incident was accidental."

Bear Test Sellout

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions sold 7,000 bleacher seats for next Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears in 1 hour and 15 minutes yesterday, assuring them of a fourth consecutive sellout at Briggs Stadium.

The ten-round contest is sanctioned by the National Boxing Association and headlines a six-bout, 32-round card at the Avalon Recreation Center. First contest is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Bell and Gault are both top ranking names in the featherweight division and Gault took part in the elimination for the world's crown. Bell is now working out of Walden, N. Y.

Michigan Prestige At Stake in Tilt With Ohio State

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan regards its traditional clash here Saturday with Big 10 champion Ohio State as a "battle for prestige."

Only a victory over the Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes can recapture some glitter from an otherwise drab Michigan season. And the Buckeyes can't afford to lose to Michigan, lest their prestige rating drop a notch or two.

Michigan has a 5-2-1 record. The Wolverines had been hoping to knock Ohio out of the title and the bowl junket. But that chance was taken from them when the Bucks beat Iowa last week. Ohio had blasted Michigan's Rose Bowl hopes with a 17-0 victory in the hotly-contested and still-debated finale in 1955.

"We'll have plenty of incentive anyway," Coach Bennie Oosterbaan said. "We always do when we play Ohio."

Michigan features a ground attack with little punch except for halfback Jim Pace. The threat of smashes through the middle was eliminated by the season-long injury to fullback John Hierstein.

But Pace probably is as fine a running back as there is in the Big 10. He shares the conference scoring leadership at 54 points with Buckeye Don Clark, each having nine touchdowns.

Passing generally supplies much of Michigan's impetus. Pace again is one of Michigan's top receivers.

Quarterback Jim Van Pelt has developed into a fine passer to blend with his running and field general abilities. His play helped win the Northwestern and Minnesota games.

The Wolverine line is relatively weak and has no standouts.

Bowls 387 Games
MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—Dennis Dunham, a 22-year-old bowler who rested by rolling twelve hours with one hand then switching to the other, wound up a marathon effort at 9:15 a. m. yesterday with a total of 387 games rolled. That was an even hundred above the mark he was shooting at, a record of 287. In sixty-one hours he averaged 152 pins per game.

Bears Lose Hill
CHICAGO (AP)—Harlon Hill, a star offensive end for the Chicago Bears, underwent surgery yesterday for a shoulder separation. He will be out for the season. Hill was injured in the third quarter of Sunday's 29-14 loss to the Baltimore Colts.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

NEW YORK (NEA)—Constantine D'Amato has come up with a new method of improving the breed of heavyweight champions.

Cus D'Amato's system is to let everybody but his tiger do the fighting.

"Let's you and him fight," seems to be Cus' credo.

D'Amato's managing secret seems to be staying mad at everybody, the International Boxing Club, which controls all the ranking challenges, in particular. That gives him an excuse for Patterson remaining idle, and the more the other guys fight the better young Floyd looks. If this goes on long enough, Floyd will be accepted as a great champion even if he never fights anyone of consequence, which he hasn't to date.

Patterson gained considerable added stature by remote control when Eddie Machen gave a public big bag punching exhibition against poor Hurricane Tommy Jackson in San Francisco.

On the record, Machen scored as handily against Jackson as did Patterson. But not actually. Patterson had Jackson ready for the hospital in the 10th round. Jackson wasn't precisely all right when his manager requested the referee to intervene at the end of the 10th with Machen, but then the Hurricane wasn't all right when the fight started.

PATTERSON HAD THE defenseless Jackson bouncing up and down like a yo yo. The best Machen could do was floor the Hurricane as he turned to chat with the referee in the first round. The Hurricane does little things like that. He likes company.

D'Amato has long maintained that Machen displays a reluctance to do battle when the going gets tough. And as things go along, not a few people are beginning to agree with him.

Jackson, who couldn't dent a felt fedora with horseshoes in his gloves, had Machen back-pedaling like a wrong way Sputnik on several occasions. Two or three times a Machen left hook to the bread basket sent Tommy into the Ubangi war dance that is a sure sign he is rather badly wounded. Machen just backed off and looked as Jackson wobbled.

MACHEN HAS A LOT of equipment and can punch with both hands, but he still has a lot to learn. He remains much too cautious and must brush up on his infighting.

"Jackson was knowingly, coldly and deliberately thrown in to build up Machen," says Cus D'Amato.

Which makes you wonder why Jackson was knowingly, coldly and deliberately thrown in with Patterson twice.

They say Patterson wrecked Jackson. But how can you wreck a wreck?

Meanwhile, Patterson has the perfect racket. He improves without fighting.

State Issues Guide to 40 Ski Centers

ALBANY — Publication of a new edition of the annual guide for New York State skiers was announced today by State Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson.

This year's guide has a new title and new format. Called "Let's Go Skiing in New York State," the pocket-sized folder has the state's ski facilities arranged in a tabular form for quick and easy reference.

Governor Averell Harriman, himself an ardent skier, gave a greeting in the guide to his fellow devotees of the sport.

"We skiers welcome again the season when we come into our own," declares the Governor. "We have looked forward with pleasant anticipation to the snowy months when we enjoy such pleasant hours of friendly companionship in the open air."

There are many private developments in other parts of the state with which we're going to keep you in touch. "I wish you good skiing this season and I look forward to meeting many of you on our slopes this winter."

The guide lists forty centers—slopes, trails, uphill transportation and days when centers are open. Free copies may be obtained from the New York State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany 7, New York.

Williams Coach Makes the Grade

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Coach Len Watters, whose Williams football team finished its season unbeaten, has joined an exclusive society.

After the squad's 39-14 triumph over Amherst in their traditional windup Saturday, Watters received the following telegram:

"Welcome to the fraternity. I've waited a long time for a partner."

It was signed Fred Walker, coach of the 1917 Williams team—only other club in the school's history to go undefeated.

Colgate Squad Gets Day Off

HAMILTON (AP)—Colgate's Red Raiders rested their aching bones yesterday after Saturday's 34-6 drubbing at the hands of the Syracuse football team.

The squad was given a day off from practice yesterday, for the first time this season. Colgate's next game is on Thanksgiving Day, against Brown at Providence, R. I.

Brooks Eyes Pimlico Run Aboard Nala

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jockey Steve Brooks, taken off the horse that won the world's richest race, thinks he knows what would make up for it: winning the world's second richest race.

The 36-year-old veteran from McCook, Neb., was scheduled to ride Claiborne Farm's Nadir in the $277,150 Garden State Stakes Oct. 26. Bill Hartack got the assignment at the last moment and Nadir took first prize of $155,047.

Brooks rode Montpelier Stable's Nala to an upset over Wheatley Stable's Misty Flight yesterday in the mile and one-sixteenth Futurity Prep and now is one of the favorites for Saturday's $171,740 Pimlico Futurity.

Top Time
Nala withstood a claim of foul to take first money by a head in the test for 2-year-olds. Eddie Arcaro said Misty Flight was bumped "two or three times" in the stretch, but the stewards didn't see it that way and Nala paid $12.60 for $2 in the best race of his career.

Nala's time of 1:44 4/5 was faster than any Futurity run since Oil Capital was clocked at 1:44 1-5 in 1949.

If Brooks can put Nala in front of Misty Flight, Maine Chance Farm's Jewel's Reward and the other nine entries Saturday he will get $12,000 from the winner's purse of $123,000.

Nadir and Nala both are sons of Nasrullah, America's leading sire.

Brooks, in his determine to win a big one this fall, is leading Maryland jocks with 26 victories in 16 days. He won the Kentucky Derby on Ponder in 1949 and was riding Citation the day the Calumet Farm colt passed the million-dollar mark in earnings in the 1951 Hollywood Gold Cup.

Russo Repeats Schmidt in 10

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Russo and Eddie (Pigeons) Lynch, a couple of young inter-borough rivals, may have their return fight at St. Nicholas Arena Dec. 23—health permitting.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner booked the two welterweights today after Russo, of Brooklyn, rallied to outpoint substitute Pete Schmidt of New York, in a televised 10-round last night.

Schmidt subdued by Lynch, another New Yorker, when Eddie showed up at the noon weight-in with a sore right arm. A month ago Russo was stricken with the Asian flu on the eve of his second scrap with Lynch. In their first clash, Aug. 5, Russo, 20, outpointed Lynch in 10 rounds.

Russo had to sweep the last two rounds to edge his willing but inept 23-year-old foe, Danny staggered Pete with a left hook to the jaw in the ninth and climbed all over his tired opponent in the 10th.

Inactive since the Lynch scrap in August, Russo didn't show much skill either.

Russo gained the split decision on the votes of the two judges. Joe Epply had him ahead, 5-4-1, while Artie Schwartz had him in front 6-3-1. Referee Art Mercurio had it exactly even—five rounds and six points for each. The AP card had it 5-5 in rounds but Russo the winner on points, 7-6.

Russo had a five-pound weight advantage—148½ to 143½.

A crowd of 1,007 paid $2,205.

Jackson Banned In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The California Athletic Commission yesterday banned heavyweight Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson from fighting again in a California ring in the wake of tremendous beating he took last week from Eddie Machen in San Francisco.

Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, commission chairman, and a physician, said "he will undoubtedly cause injury to himself of a serious nature were he to continue boxing as he did the other night."

Machen defeated Jackson decisively in their scheduled 12-round match that ended with a 10th round technical knockout.

The California commission is the second boxing body to respond to Jackson's showing against Machen. Last Friday, the New York State Athletic Commission suggested that Jackson "retire voluntarily."

SELLOUT ASSURED For Australian Davis Cup Test

MELBOURNE (AP)—Tennis mad fans in this "down under" continent have gobbled up over 20,000 tickets for the Davis Cup Challenge Round at Kooyon Stadium Dec. 26-28, assuring a sellout for the world's greatest tennis show.

Only 232 seats remain — and these are expected to vanish momentarily—the Davis Cup Organizing Committee announced today. The committee said 20,287 duets already have been sold.

The winner of the Interzone Matches between the United States team and the Philippines meets Belgium for the right to try and dethrone the defending champion Aussies.

Big Business
Tennis is a big business in Australia, and the Davis Cup is comparable to a quarter-million dollar business in the U. S. and handled with much the same care and efficiency as an American multimillion-dollar corporation.

Preparations for the 1957 event began as soon as the last ball was hit at Adelaide in 1956.

Eight committees comprising 100 volunteers plus the officials of the Lawn Tennis Assn. have been in action.

The duties of the ground committee which supervises preparation of the court show the extent of the preparations.

The group is responsible for the eradication of weeds, must check on the conditions of mowers, rollers, hoses and sprinkler systems, make parking arrangements and rehearse ticket-checkers and attendants.

Ballboys Chosen
Over 300 youngsters applied for jobs as ballboys but only 32, the fleetest and most alert, were selected.

The ballboys now are undergoing rigorous training drills, held to make the boys proficient at retrieving loose balls on the run and stopping at the end of the court without the flick of an eyelash.

The same painstaking care went into the selection of 175 attractive usherettes out of hundreds of applicants.

They are completely outfitted with white uniforms. Beauty specialists are hired to fix any flaws in makeup. They undergo training in speech and deportment, and an airline hostess teaches them poise and personality.

Another Cleared Navy Convicts Marine in Brig Brutality Case

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — One Texas Marine was convicted and one acquitted by a U. S. Navy court-martial today on charges of roughing up American sailors in a brig at Sasebo naval base.

Cpl. James T. Ray, 21, of Texas City, was sentenced to 15 days at hard labor without confinement, forfeiture of $30 pay, and reduction in rank to private first class for punching a prisoner in the stomach. He was found innocent of a second charge filed by another sailor.

Subject to Review
Sgt. Bobby Phillips, 22, of Tyler, was cleared of a similar charge of striking a sailor.

Ray's sentence is subject to review by naval headquarters at Yokosuka and U. S. Pacific military headquarters in Hawaii.

The Texas Leathernecks are among 16 Marines being court-martialed for alleged brutality at the south Japan base. So far three have been convicted and two acquitted.

Ray was convicted on testimony of seaman Donald Cherry, 21, of Chicago. Cherry, who was convicted for using marijuana and heroin aboard ship, told of being punched "a definite blow" in the stomach by Ray.

Fireman Jeffery T. Cahee, 22, of Roanoke, La., said Ray "hailed off and hit me in the stomach and the chest." When Cahee was vague on cross questioning, the Marines' civilian attorney, Frank H. Scolinos of Tokyo and Los Angeles, called his charge "a figment of your imagination." Ray was acquitted of Cahee's charge.

Hitting Denied
Ray told the court martial officer, Cmdr. Joseph A. Eddins of Rosedale, Miss., "I never laid a hand on Cahee or Cherry."

Phillips was cleared of a charge of punching Curtis Tisdell, 22, of Houston, Tex. Another Marine, Sgt. Robert J. Irvin of Newark, N. J., told the court Phillips was not on duty at the time.

Denies Sputniks Indicate Soviet Edge Over U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, says Russia's two earth satellites "do not prove that the Russians are more advanced in military rocketry than we are."

Quarles said the Sputniks must be regarded as the "first and exciting probes into the mysteries of outer space . . . significant as an indication of the state of advancement of Russian military rocketry."

Little Significance
But, he added in a New York speech, the satellites have "little or no other military significance," and do not show Russian superiority to the United States in that field.

But the head of the Army's ballistic missiles agency at Huntsville, Ala., has indicated he thinks this nation is behind the Russians.

Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris said in Detroit that the United States could catch the Soviets in the missile race in three to five years "if we use all the resources at our command."

Quarles and Medaris both expressed their views on another topic—whether or not the United States should make a special effort to send a rocket to the moon.

"We must not be panicked or pushed into any sudden dispersion of effort which would scatter our talents and resources in an unprofitable or wasteful manner," the deputy defense secretary said. "We must not be talked into 'hitting the moon with a rocket,' for example, just to be first, unless by doing so we stand to gain something of real scientific or military significance."

Medaris, who made a speech and also held a news conference in Detroit, said the United States will hit the moon as soon as it can.

"It is important to get as far out as possible," he said. Medaris explained his remarks did not represent official policy.

Against Limitations
The general said he favored letting scientists shoot for the stars from the beginning, rather than limiting them to specific objectives.

"We must not think in terms of a finite goal to be reached," he said, "but rather of a limitless road to be traveled."

Meanwhile, Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, indicated yesterday that some expansion of press coverage of missile launchings is being planned.

Snyder also said, in an appearance before a house subcommittee on government information, that the Pentagon still plans to permit newsmen to cover the first launching of a fully instrumented U. S. satellite, scheduled to be put in space by next March.

But, he added, newsmen will not be permitted to observe the launching of the smaller test globes. The first of these will be sent aloft next month.

Search for Hunters
OLD FORGE (AP)—State troopers and forest rangers today searched rugged Adirondack woods for two hunters missing since Sunday.

Chester Rieben, 24, and Albert R. Pontero, 24, both of Utica, were reported lost near North Lake, southwest of here.

The first nationwide sale of Christmas seals in the United States was staged in 1908 and brought $135,000.

When you reach her (or him) through an ad in the Classified Want Ad Pages of the Kingston Daily Freeman.

WHY DO THEY CALL THEM WANT ADS?

Because the people who read them WANT something! That's what we mean when we say your prospect is in a buying mood when she reads your Want Ad. They are called Want Ads because the advertiser wants something too . . . he wants sales.

If you want sales . . . easy sales to people who are waiting to buy . . . let the Freeman Classified Want Ad department show you how easy and inexpensive it is to plan a successful ad campaign.

Banker Will Talk At Port Ewen Business Meeting

IRVING L. EYLES

The importance of a bank in the community will be the topic at Thursday night's meeting of the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association, starting at 8 p. m. in the firehall.

Irving L. Eyles, executive vice president of the Rondout National Bank, which recently established a branch in Port Ewen, will be the speaker. He has been associated with banking for more than 25 years. Before coming to Kingston in 1948, he was an officer of a bank at Hackensack, N. J.

It is hoped that a large turnout will attend the session during which Mr. Eyles will explain services available at the Rondout National's Port Ewen branch.

Other matters vital to the interests of business men in the community will be discussed at the meeting which is being held a week earlier than usual because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

All Known Saud Gifts Collected Except Purse Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has collected and taken custody of all known gifts to its personnel from King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

There is one exception, however. That is the $3,000 automobile given by Saud to the family of Victor R. Purse, former deputy chief of protocol at the State Department. The car is registered in his wife's name, and the department made no effort to reclaim it.

Disclosure of the gift to Purse's wife several weeks ago touched off a furore in the department over the propriety of accepting gifts.

After a hearing, the department decided Purse could keep the car and his job. He was found to be within the law but to have exercised "bad judgment."

The department acted last week to clarify the regulations governing acceptance of gifts by State Department personnel at home and American service officers abroad. A circular was sent around to all of them.

In effect, the circular ruled out any gifts except those of insignificant value, such as autographed photographs.

The order to return the gifts from Saud went out nearly two weeks ago. It was done quietly. Wrist watches, Arab robes and ceremonial daggers — standard among gifts dispensed by Saud during his Washington visit last February — were turned in. They were taken over by the protocol division for storing until the department decides whether to give them back.

Pravda Asks Boost

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda called today for large increases in basic industrial production within the next 15 years, the period in which

Nikita Khrushchev claims Russia will overtake present U. S. output. The Communist Party newspaper asked for a threefold increase in Soviet iron ore production to an output of 250-330 million tons annually. Russian production in 1955 was about 79 million tons and U. S. production about 116 million tons.

Properly speaking, a cathedral is a Christian church which contains the "cathedra," or official chair, of a bishop.

ARE YOU LEAVING YOUR FURNITURE "OUT IN THE COLD?"

YOU MAY BE WITHOUT KNOWING IT!

Here's why. Building costs have been rising steadily, while your insurance level has stayed the same.
